Rutherford Roars To Indy Win

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Johnny Rutherford, never even able to finish here in 10 previous times, came charging all the way from 25th place to win Sunday's Indianapolis 500-mile race in a smoothly run race contrasting sharply to last year's Indy, which claimed the life of one driver.

Rutherford won the 58th running of auto racing's richest spectacle by first wearing down pole-leader A.J. Foyt and then beating Bobby Unser by 21 seconds.

Foyt was foiled in his bid for an unprecedented fourth Indy victory after virtually running neck-and-neck with Rutherford for 300 miles. Foyt, however, was forced out on the 143rd lap with a broken gearbox.

Billy Vukovich was third as Rutherford took the checkered flag with an average speed of 158 miles per hour, considerably slower than the record 162 set by Mark Donohue in 1972.

Rutherford, whose Roger Penske team earned an estimated $250,000, had predicted he would win the race after officials of the United States Auto club denied him a front-line start despite a 190 m.p.h. qualifying speed. They said Rutherford turned up late for his turn in the trials and penalized him for the tardiness by placing him in the ninth row.

FULLERTON—From the raceway dust of Devil's Bowl, Dallas, Tex., to the winner's circle at the Brickyard is the way the career of Johnny Rutherford has gone, said his mother Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Vediner, of 1007 N. Ferndale Ave., spoke with The Register after listening to the radio broadcast of her son's victory in the 58th Indianapolis 500.

"He was optimistic, but he's always optimistic," said Mrs. Vediner, recalling a telephone conversation with her son three weeks ago.

"He felt he had a good machine and it proved to be good today," she said. "I was apprehensive at first and then very excited. I (Please Turn To A2, Col. 6)

Thousands Flock To Beaches

Balmy inland weather sent approximately 233,500 persons to Orange County beaches Sunday where there was fog and the water was cool.

The inland high was 92 degrees at about 3 p.m., reported by the Santa Ana Fire Dept.

Along the coast the air temperatures ranged from the low to mid 60s and the water temperatures were in the high 50s, said lifeguards.

Visibility was limited to one-quarter to one-half mile, they said. No unusual beach rescues were reported.

Seal Beach was the exception. There, about 18,000 persons basked under 87-degree skies and enjoyed 63-degree water, city lifeguards said.

Newport Beach had the largest turnout of sun lovers, about 85,000 persons. Reports of other large masses of people included:

Huntington Beach city and state beaches, 65,000, and San Clemente city and county beaches, 45,500.

Boaters were also out en masse. Coast Guard Lt. Edward Beder quipped, "Everything that floats was out there. You could have walked to Catalina (Island) without getting wet."

FROM CHAPMAN COLLEGE

Now Dumbest, Hope Says As Youngest Graduates

By JIM BROCK
Register Staff Writer
ORANGE—Sharp-witted comedian Bob Hope Sunday rattled off a few one-liners and admitted he was the "dumbest member of my family" now that his youngest son, Kelly, was part of the 1974 graduating class at Chapman College.

A Bit Cooler

Temperatures should cool slightly today and Tuesday fog, locally dense along the coast, should be present during evening and early morning hours, according to the official forecast.

The inland temperatures should be between 75 and 85 from the upper 60s to low 70s.

Moderate temperatures should prevail during the week.

For late county weather and traffic conditions, call 547-0501. (Additional Weather—Page A7)

Hope said, "I'm proud and... surprised."

Hope, the college's commencement speaker, spoke before more than 3,000 persons, including 630 students who received bachelor and masters degrees.

The spry comedian was also attending the ceremony as a parent. His son, William Kelly Hope, 28, was awarded a bachelor's degree in archeology.

In addition, Hope, 70, received a special citation in the hour-long commencement ceremony. Chapman's President Donald Kleckner gave him a "Special Presidential Award."

In a quip about the weather, Hope looked up at the sunny sky and said, "It's a beautiful day for streaking."

Hope turned more serious as he spoke to the graduates.

"This nation may be skidding toward a crisis in mineral energy, but there's no shortage when it comes to the energy of young minds," he said.

"Colleges like Chapman are warehouses of raw intelligence...quarries of wisdom."

He challenged the students to bring "people together in a lasting peace...You have the world at your fingertips to shape it as you desire," he said.

"Tomorrow you're the Establishment, and I feel the country is going to be in right good hands."

After the ceremony, Hope and his wife, Dolores, and Kelly posed for a family portrait.

600,000 CITIZENS ON LIST

Impeachment Views Computerized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee impeachment staff has a computerized list of more than 600,000 citizens' names that any national politician would love to have.

The list includes the names of all persons who have written to the committee expressing an opinion on the possible impeachment of President Nixon. As of May 20, it numbered 603,415 names, all compiled on a computer reel.

Man Found Dead In Motel Pool

GARDEN GROVE — A 22-year-old Carlsbad, N.M., man was found dead Sunday at the bottom of a swimming pool at the Fire Station Motel, 12625 Harbor Blvd., an apparent drowning victim, the coroner reported.

The body of Julian Valdez Calderon was found at 1:45 a.m. by another motel lodger. He had been dead almost four hours, the coroner estimated.

PAPER CLAIMS

Hunt Hush Fund Pay Date Pegged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The New York Times reported Sunday that a Cincinnati man's datebook tends to confirm that a hush money payment of $75,000 was made to convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt on March 21, 1973 only hours after President Nixon told John Dean to "keep the cap on the bottle" of the scandal.

The Times quoted three unnamed members of the House Judiciary Committee. The White House called the story another example of press attempts to prejudice the committee's impeachment hearings.

According to the Times, a notebook kept by attorney Sherman E. Unger reveals he dined with former Nixon reelection committee official Frederick C. LaRue March 21.

LaRue testified before the Senate Watergate Committee last year that he served as go-between to deliver the hush money to Hunt's attorney's home, but he vaguely recalled the date of delivery as March 20. This would put the payment one day before the President discussed possible payoffs with his counsel, John W. Dean III, and former aide H.R. Haldean, according to the White House transcript of the conversation.

The transcripts show the following dialogue with Dean on March 21:

Nixon: Would you agree that that's the prime thing that you damn well better get done?"

Dean: Obviously. He ought to be given some signal anyway.

Nixon: (expletive deleted) get it.

Earlier in the same conversation the President said, "It seems to me we have to keep the cap on the bottle that much" while discussing the payoff options. But the White House has contended Nixon neither ordered nor knew of any payments to Hunt.

LaRue also said he had dinner at his Watergate apartment with Unger the night the payment was made. Unger's travel notes, which the Times said were obtained by the Watergate grand jury and turned over to the Judiciary Committee, show that dinner was on March 21 instead of (Please Turn To A2, Col. 7)

Panel To Press Tapes Demands

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With President Nixon apparently giving in to its demands for his tax records, the House Judiciary Committee meets in an angry mood this week to step up pressure for subpoenaed Watergate tapes or retaliate if he refuses.

Most of the 38 members of the impeachment panel had left the capital for a long Memorial Day weekend when the Florida White House announced Saturday that Nixon's attorneys were prepared to arrange to give the committee his federal income tax records.

The committee had been trying to get the records from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to determine whether Nixon's back-tax debt of more than $430,000 — which he is now paying — involved him in any impeachable offense.

Committee members disclosed last week the IRS had refused to release the records on grounds the panel had no legal authority to see them, but Attorney General William B. Saxbe ruled Saturday there were various technical procedures that could be used to get around that barrier.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler then announced from Key Biscayne, Fla., where the President was spending the weekend, that Nixon had ordered his lawyers to work out with Judiciary Committee counsel some way to turn over the records easily and "under appropriate safeguards."

That still left the much (Please Turn To A2, Col. 7)

JUST MARRIED — 50 YEARS AGO — All Mrs. Violet Seely, 68, wanted for her 50th wedding anniversary Sunday was to ride in a 1923 Model-T Ford with her husband, Ralph, 72. Mr. and Mrs. Seely, of 1306 Glenwood Place, Santa Ana, drove from their hometown, Hicksville, Ohio, to Frontier, Mich., in such an automobile to be married by her grandfather. The fulfillment of Mrs. Seely's anniversary wish was a surprise arranged by the couple's children.

Bitten-Off Ear Sewn Back On

CINCINNATI (UPI) — "I was snapping a towel at the two other dogs and Happy came around in back of my head as I lay on the floor," said Dr. John Tibbett. "He grabbed at the towel, missed and took off most of my ear as neatly as a knife would do it."

"Happy," a handsome 4-year-old doberman pinscher, might be without a home if he belonged to a less forgiving master than Tibbett.

Tibbett, of nearby Thomas More College, was playing at home with his three dobermans when Happy got carried away.

Happy just stood there with the ear in his mouth.

"I asked him to give it to me and he did," Tibbett said. "Then I packed the ear in ice and went to my neighbor, Charles Cooke. He took me to St. Elizabeth Hospital."

Doctors were able to sew the ear back on, however, in a two-and-a-half hour operation, and Tibbett stands a good chance of returning to normal.

'Devilish' Ex-Gl Priest At 78

FRANKLIN, N. J. (UPI) — Father Charles Fogarty, a 78-year-old widower and former soldier busted three times because he was "devilish," performed his first mass Sunday on the sprawling grounds of a Catholic mission here.

Father Fogarty was ordained Saturday into the Catholic order of Consolata Fathers, an Italian order of missionaries, here who accepted him as a student in 1971 after he was rejected elsewhere because of his age.

The open air mass was celebrated under cloudy skies on the Consolatas' 200 acre mission for a crowd of some 300 persons, including his 20 year-old granddaughter, Bambi Faunce, of Columbia, Md. The father of two children, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Father Fogarty now hopes he will be appointed to do chaplain work in hospitals where he first decided to turn to the cloth.

Impeachment Effort Called A Vendetta

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House Counselor Anne Armstrong Sunday accused organized labor of undertaking a vendetta against President Nixon and joining with civil rights groups in an "orchestrated effort" for impeachment. "Organized labor set two goals...before the Watergate hearings began," she said. "Number one, the impeachment of President Nixon, and they were joined in this—I call it a vendetta—joined in it by other organizations such as the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action), and the American Civil Liberties Union, and (Ralph) Nader's forces and certain remnants of Sen. George McGovern's followers, and they set out with an organized, concerted, orchestrated effort to impeach the President."

Mrs. Armstrong said she thought an impeachment resolution probably would be voted out of the House Judiciary Committee, where some of the members already "are set in concrete—have made their views known before the evidence was in." But she added flatly: "I think there will be no impeachment voted by the House."

The attempt will fail, she explained, because of the lack of hard evidence of wrongdoing by the President. Asked if she had seen the evidence, she said she had not, but had read all of the transcripts made public by the White House and she believes Nixon's defense.

She also said that she sees "no impropriety" in the other possible impeachment grounds for impeachment, the milk fund, ITT or the tax situation which she has studied "very, very closely."

In her frequent travels outside of Washington, she said, she has found that there is a great division of opinion about the President's role in Watergate. "But what I do find," she added, "overwhelmingly, is that most people wish that Watergate could be speedily, fairly taken care of."

She said that the process would only be delayed more if Nixon were to furnish additional tapes to the committee.

Mrs. Armstrong strongly defended Vice President Gerald R. Ford against a question about criticism that he is "traveling too much and talking too much and is not really helping the President at all."

"I think Vice President Ford is doing a tremendous job," she declared. "I think he is rallying Republicans and non-partisan groups out there. I think his qualities of stability, of validity, of candor are a welcome uplift to the American people in these very troubled times. I think Vice President Ford is doing a great job in every way."

Byrd Chides Nixon Refusal To Give Data

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic whip Robert C. Byrd said Sunday he sees President Nixon as "a law and order President who says subpoenas must be answered by everyone except himself."

Byrd, D-W.Va., said Nixon's refusal to submit information to the House Judiciary Committee on impeachment "could be said to be obstructing justice" and denying it its right to carry out "an appropriate constitutional function."

Nixon Halts White House Visitor Logging

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President Nixon stopped the logging of visitors to the White House family quarters and the comings and goings of the First Family a few months ago, a spokesman confirmed Sunday.

Tom Decair, an assistant White House press secretary, confirmed a report by a Washington Post columnist that the traditional usher's logbook—a record that has been kept for 90 years in the executive mansion—has been discontinued.

It was learned that Nixon, several months ago, also ordered an end to the keeping of logbooks at his Florida bay-side compound here when he spotted an aide recording his activities.

The White House family logbooks date back to the days of Grover Cleveland.

Five Guards Injured In Prison Fight

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Five guards and four inmates were injured, none seriously, during a three-hour disturbance Sunday at the state prison farm in Powhatan County, a Welfare and Institutions Department spokesman said.

Spokesman Wayne Farrar said the trouble began when three inmates attacked two others while prisoners were lining up for lunch at the institution west of Richmond. He said at least three guards were assaulted when they attempted to break up the fight.

Inmates took a tear gas gun from the guards, he said, and 26 prisoners in the corridor of the cell block building armed themselves with chair legs, pieces of pipe and other makeshift weapons.

After some three hours, Farrar said, officers and administrators persuaded the inmates to lay down their weapons and enter the corridor of the maximum security cell block. He said the building was placed under control by 3 p.m.

Who's Texas Top Yeller?

VICTORIA, Tex. (UPI) — A 50-year-old Bellaire, Tex., man won the Best All-Around Person in the World contest at the Fourth First Annual Armadillo Cofgab and Exposition Sunday, but sponsors declared the yelling contest void when the contestants couldn't be found in the crowd.

Death Leap

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Mary Lou Wolf, 48, Seattle, Saturday leaped to her death from the Space Needle, the second suicide from the 520-foot structure.

Her death occurred only a few days before an experimental safety net was to be installed.

The preliminaries in the yelling contest were held Friday and Saturday and Armstrong said one contestant stood above all the others.

Armstrong said they would have declared the man the winner Sunday but someone lost the entry blank.

WINNING TWINS — Winners of the Twin-O-Rama contest held Sunday during the Strawberry Festival in Garden Grove were Tina and Dena Madsen, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kolkmeier of Westminster, most look-alike twin girls; Caryn and Cary Berg-

Israelis Hunt Cause Of Fire In Arms Plant

By United Press International
Fire of undetermined origin broke out Sunday in an armaments plant in northern Israel where security forces continued manhunt for suspected Arab guerrilla infiltrators, Israeli police said.

The Soltam Industries plan, 16 miles southeast of Haifa, makes medium-size arms, cannons and ammunition for the Israeli armed forces.

In Damascus, Palestinian guerrillas claimed credit for the fire. A statement issued by the General Command Palestinian Revolutionary Forces said the fire was started by time bombs which a guerrilla raiding party had planted.

The statement also said several factory workers have been killed or wounded.

Four Syrian MIG17 jets strafed Israeli forward positions on the Golan Heights Sunday while gunners duelled on the ground along the entire 45-mile front. The battle also spilled over into neighboring Lebanon.

The new fighting flared shortly before Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned to Damascus from Israel to try to clinch a military disengagement agreement.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Syrian air attack, the first over Israeli-held territory since May 10, caused no casualties. But Damascus radio said the raid inflicted "great losses in life and equipment."

Syria said all of its planes returned safely.

In the 76th straight day of artillery exchanges on the ground, Israeli military spokesmen said there were no casualties.

The Tel Aviv command said one soldier died Sunday of wounds suffered along the front Saturday.

The Lebanese Defense Ministry said in Beirut that Lebanese and Israeli troops exchanged artillery fire when two Israeli patrols attempted to take up positions in the Lebanese foothills of Mt. Hermon, the 9,222-foot mountain straddling the Syrian-Lebanese frontier.

4 Rescued Off Aliso After Boat Capsizes

LAGUNA BEACH—Four persons were rescued Sunday about a quarter-mile off Aliso Beach after their 21-foot motor boat capsized, the Coast Guard reported.

Recovery II, which sank to the bottom, flipped at about 2:30 p.m. after it apparently hit an unknown object, reported Coast Guard Sgt. Richard Olson.

Skipper David Stewart and his wife, Alice, of 9372 Cape Cod, Huntington Beach, and two passengers Tenney Smith, 263 Princeton Drive, and Beverly Germeroth, 1592 Caraway Park, both of Costa Mesa, were pulled from the water within 10 minutes by a passing boater.

All but Mrs. Stewart escaped injury. She was taken by ambulance to San Clemente General Hospital for observation. She suffered apparent minor head injuries but was not admitted to the hospital, her husband reported.

The rescue was made by a man aboard an 18-foot motor boat, the Jackmar, who used the boat's UHF radio to call the Coast Guard. His identity was not known. However, the Arizona-licensed vessel is registered to John Zamora of Los Angeles.

Stop For Smoke Costs Man $135

YORBA LINDA — Michael Donald Hedges, 18, of Fullerton, stopped his car early Sunday morning to light a cigarette and was robbed of $135, police reported.

Hedges was robbed in the Alpha Beta Shopping center, Valley View Street and Yorba Linda Boulevard, at about 12:30 a.m. by two men armed with two-foot-long pieces of lumber, police said.

He said he had stopped to find some matches in his vehicle.

Arrested three hours later was Jesus Cortez Hernandez, 23, at 1616 Oak Place, Placentia, on the basis of a description of the holdup men's alleged getaway vehicle furnished police by Hedges.

Hernandez was booked into county jail on suspicion of robbery. He remained in custody in lieu of posting $25,000 bail. The second suspect was still being sought by police.

Gale Grounds Ship; 30 Saved

SYDNEY (UPI) — Thirty crew members of the Norwegian bulk carrier Sygna were rescued Sunday by an Air Force helicopter after their ship ran aground and started to break up in heavy seas on Stockton Beach 100 miles north of Sydney.

The 50,000-ton ship, one of a group waiting off Newcastle Harbor for berths, was trying to reach open sea to weather the gale when it was struck by 80-knot winds, high waves and currents which drove it ashore.

FBI, Police Keep Hunting Patty, Harris

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — FBI agents and police were kept on the alert Sunday checking out tips on the whereabouts of Patricia Hearst and two other fugitive members of the so-called Symbionese Liberation Army.

The FBI made it clear it was still acting on the assumption that the Hearst girl and SLA members William and Emily Harris were still in this area.

Frederick Schwartz, the father of Mrs. Harris, said Sunday he was contacted by a "third party" who said he could lead Schwartz to his daughter.

Schwartz told a news conference before flying home to Chicago that he arrived at a designated meeting point an hour late Friday and failed to meet the contact. Schwartz did not elaborate on who the person was or where the meeting place was.

There was a flurry of excitement among newsmen and law enforcement officers Sunday afternoon when Los Angeles police followed a van northbound on U.S. 101 and stopped it near Santa Barbara.

The occupants, a man and woman, described as in their 20s, were taken to the Santa Barbara county sheriff's office for questioning.

They were released after a short time and an LAPD spokesman said, "It was a citizen's lead and turned out to be nothing."

It was indicated Miss Hearst and the Harris couple may have found shelter with SLA sympathizers but the FBI declined to give out any hard evidence on this.

Law enforcement authorities along the Mexico border were alerted to watch for the trio in case they tried to escape the country in the crush of Memorial Day weekend traffic.

Miss Hearst has a total of 20 charges against her—most of them lodged by the Los Angeles county district attorney for kidnapping, assault and the like.

The FBI pointed out that anyone harboring the fugitives would be liable to prosecution.

'Nob Hill Rapist' Faces Long Term For SF Crimes

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—John P. Bunyard faces a sentence of from 15 years to life in prison for the crimes he committed as San Francisco's "Nob Hill rapist."

The sentence will be served concurrently with two other sentences of 21 years to life given to Bunyard on Oct. 26 in Mariposa for two murders and a variety of other offenses committed on a three-day spree in April of 1973 that extended from the Bay Area to Lake Tahoe.

His trial on the San Francisco offenses was shifted from San Francisco to San Bernardino on grounds that pre-trial publicity had eliminated any chance of a fair trial in the Bay Area.

A jury Thursday found him guilty of six felony charges following a two-week trial. He earlier had pleaded guilty to seven charges. Superior Court Judge Beach Vevesay then sentenced the 29-year-old Bunyard.

During the trial, testimony of one key witness was given to a jury by means of video tape.

It came from former San Francisco State University coed Yoshiko Tanaka, 25, of Tokyo, who was attacked by Bunyard in March of 1973.

Bunyard, using four knives, stabbed her nine times. One blade was broken off in her body, but she survived the attack. Testimony was taken before she returned to her native Japan to recover.

When he was sentenced in Mariposa, Bunyard told the judge: "All my life there have been recommendations that I be institutionalized with impersonal treatment. I always had this from my family. What I need is love."

Ford Counsels Nixon To Stop 'Stonewalling'

DANBURY, Conn. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford said Sunday he has warned President Nixon that his refusal to turn over more White House tapes and documents to the Watergate special prosecutor could increase the possibility of Nixon's impeachment.

"I want the facts out," the vice president said.

Ford, noting that he and the President differ on the question of handling the Watergate affair, said he urged the President to modify his "stonewalling" defense against requests for further White House evidence. He did not reveal Nixon's response to his advice.

However, the vice president said he expected Nixon would deliver more tape recordings to Prosecutor Leon Jaworski if the President was directed to do so by a "definitive" ruling from the Supreme Court.

At his meeting with Nixon last week, Ford said they discussed the White House "stonewalling" policy—calling for no further disclosures of confidential materials. "I indicated," he said, "that this could lead to an emotional, institutional confrontation that doesn't necessarily relate to impeachable offenses, and sometimes important facts are overlooked. I want the facts out."

Ford, in Connecticut to boost the candidacy of Rep. Ronald A. Sarasin, R-Conn., said all the information relevant to the Watergate inquiry should be made public. He also suggested that the impeachment proceedings before the House Judiciary Committee be televised, so that the public would get the truth "not by leak but by personal viewing."

Hunt Hush Money Pay Date

March 20—the same day Nixon had his payoff discussion with Dean.

The Times quoted committee sources as saying the $75,000 was obtained from secret campaign funds on orders of former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who acted at the request of Haldeman a half hour after his meeting with the President.

Unger met with LaRue innocently, and he has nothing to do with Watergate except as a confirmation of when he dined with the re-election aide, the Times said.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler called on the House to investigate leaks from the Judiciary Committee after he learned of the Times story.

"This information which has been provided to the New York Times either by a member of the House Judiciary Committee or by one of its staff members is clearly intended to prejudice public opinion which does not have access to the full record of the secret executive session hearings," Ziegler said in Key Biscayne, Fla., where the President was spending the Memorial Day weekend.

"I repeat again that this type of piecemeal revelation of executive session hearings and the materials before them is a violation of due process and an absolute violation of the committee rules."

"In my view, if this type of process continues where information is leaked to create a negative inference against the President, the speaker of the House and other members of the Congress should demand an broader issue of the presidential tape recordings and Nixon's defiance of committee subpoenas for the committee to resolve, however.

Many of the committee's Republican members are now obviously as frustrated and angered by Nixon's defiance as the Democrats, partly because of reaction to the evidence already presented in the seven days of closed hearings thus far held.

At a public meeting scheduled for Thursday or Friday, the committee likely may issue at least two more subpoenas and to formally declare Nixon in noncompliance with three previous subpoenas.

The new subpoenas probably will cover 46 tapes of conversations dealing with dairy industry campaign contributions and 20 covering the ITT case. Nixon wrote committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., D-N.J., last week, saying that he not only would refuse to honor two earlier subpoenas but also would reject any new ones.

Rodino and the panel's chief counsel, John Doar and Albert Jenner, responded with unusual anger.

They said the White House transcripts, provided as substitute for the 42 tapes the committee had originally subpoenaed, were "inadequate and unsatisfactory" and spelled out what they viewed as inaccuracies in the texts.

Rodino still opposes any effort to have Nixon cited for contempt of Congress or to use the courts to enforce the subpoenas.

But several Republicans have indicated they were ready to support a formal committee statement to Nixon that he was in noncompliance with its demands. A previous letter garnered only one Republican vote and passed only 20-18 with Democratic support.

explanation from the House Judiciary Committee as to why committee rules are being so blatantly violated.

"The assertion that a payment was made on March 21 is not a new one. This has been reported before and in no way affects the President's position. The fact is the President did not authorize or know about such a payment. It is unfortunate and indeed disgraceful that this type of prejudgment and inference toward the President is made in this fashion when not a witness has been heard by the full committee and before a single witness has been questioned.

"As the days continue, it will become known that the President's statements that he did not authorize or know of such a payment is a fact despite these efforts to prejudice public opinion."

Man Arrested After Attack On SA Mother

SANTA ANA — A 32-year-old mother was assaulted in her bed early Sunday in an apparent rape attempt but fought off her attacker. She then telephoned police and gave a description which led to the immediate arrest of a man, police said.

Arrested minutes after the 5:20 a.m. attack was Robert Lee Morehead, 19, of 1517 W. Richland St. He was apprehended in his car at the intersection of Highland and Shelton Streets, a few blocks away from the attack scene.

He was booked on suspicion of assault and attempted rape. He remained in police custody in lieu of posting $50,000 bail.

The woman, who had the aid of her teenage daughter in warding off the attacker, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for cuts and bruises. Her attacker entered the house by removing a rear screen and opening the unlocked window.

Bargaining Brisk On Warm Day

Some 8,000 bargain hunters, collectors and people-watchers thronged to the Trouble Shooter's Antique Swap Session held in the Honer Plaza Shopping Center parking lot Sunday. A total of 430 exhibitors displayed a nostalgic array of diverse items such as clocks and guns, glass and buttons, stamps and coins, antique pieces of furniture, rare old home appliances, works of art, and old books and magazines.

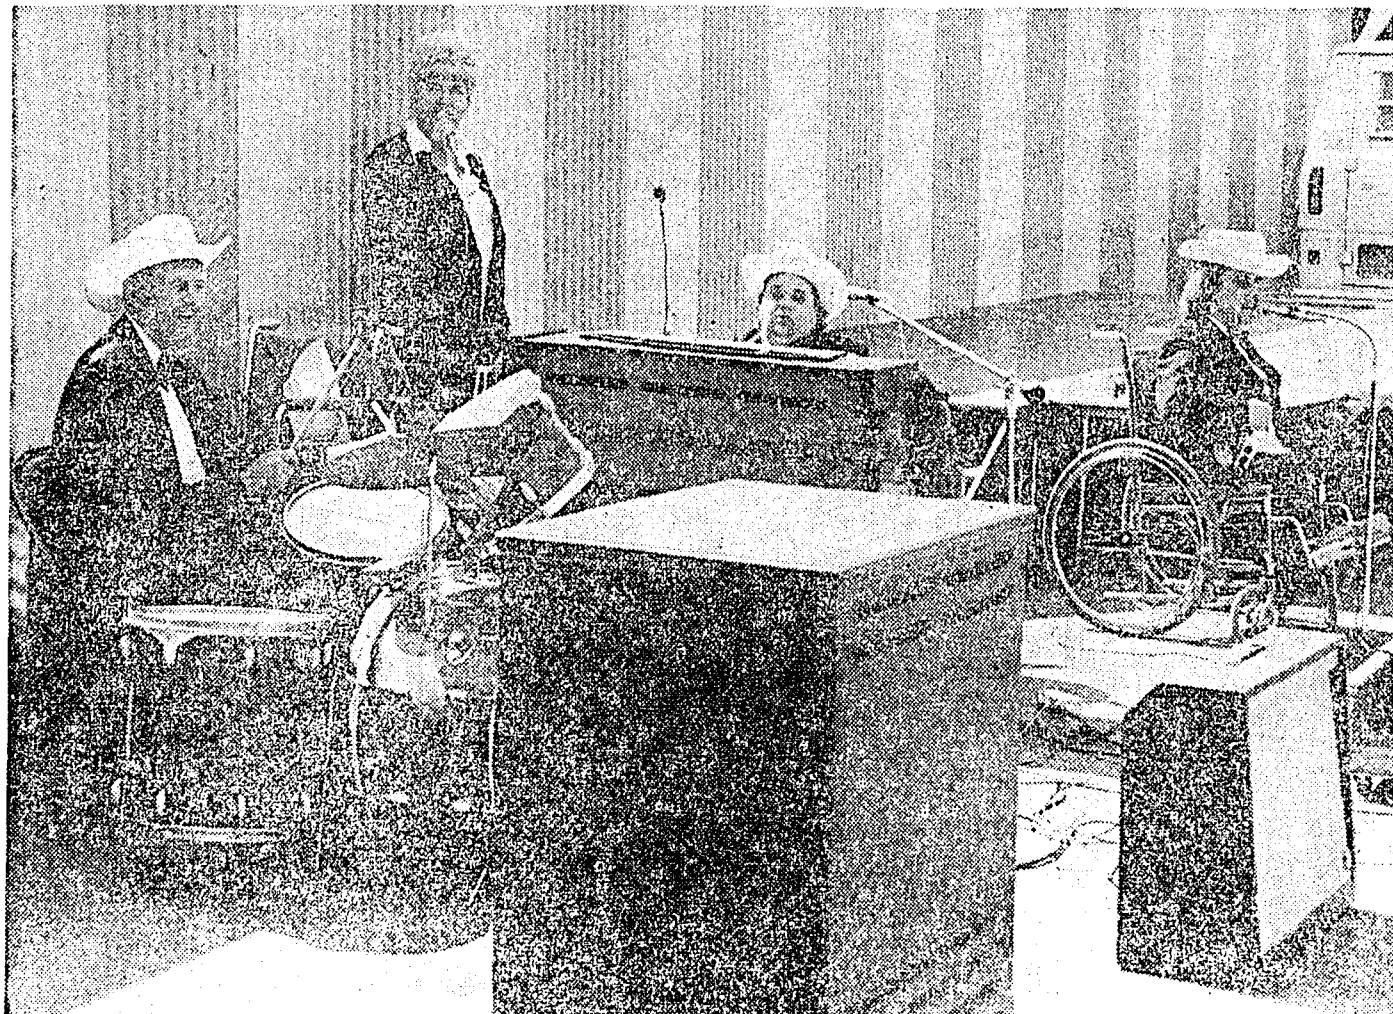

The Ol' Trouble Shooter reports that around $6,000 was netted by the meet — money which will go to his band of "Secret Angels." It's their continuing job to use these funds to assist folks who are temporarily down-but-not-out.

Stewart J. O. Alsop, author, columnist and political analyst, died Sunday at the National Institutes of Health near Washington.

He was 60. Alsop had suffered for months from a rare form of leukemia. Earlier this year during a remission of the disease he wrote a book about his experiences—and his "Stay of Execution." Alsop is survived by his wife, Patricia, and six children: Joseph Wright of New York, Ian Alexander Douglas of New York, Elizabeth Alsop Mahony, Stewart Johnnot Oliver Jr. of Los Angeles, Richard Nicholas of Washington, D.C., and Andrew Christian of Washington, D.C. Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy, will work in her uncle Edward Kennedy's Senate office this summer, a spokesman confirmed Sunday in Washington. Caroline, 16, will be one of eight to 10 summer interns in the office. Most senators have such intern programs for high school and college students. The spokesman said that while most interns work through the whole summer, Caroline will work only three weeks, probably starting at the end of July. She will return to Concord, Mass., in the fall.

Soviet cellist Mstislav Rostropovich, his black Newfoundland hound at his side, arrived in England Sunday for a two-year stay. He said he loved his country but thanked Soviet authorities for letting him leave. The world-renowned musician, who fell into official disfavor at home over his friendship with exiled novelist Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, flew into Heathrow airport London, from Moscow aboard a Soviet aeroflot jet. The cellist has a two-year visa from Britain. Friends in Moscow fear Soviet authorities may not permit him to return, as they have done with other persons who lost official favor and then traveled abroad. Rostropovich's wife, opera singer Galina Vishnevskaya, and the couple's two teen-age daughters are to join him after the Soviet school term ends in July.

Mrs. Judy Agnew, wife of former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, was reported in satisfactory condition Sunday, following two nights of hospitalization at Bethesda, Md., for "post-operative complications" related to surgery she underwent last month. A spokesman for Suburban Hospital in Bethesda, a suburb of Washington, said Mrs. Agnew was admitted Friday night and was undergoing treatment. Mrs. Agnew underwent a hysterectomy last month at a hospital in Towson, Md., outside Baltimore.

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese newsmen Nguyen Manh Hieu was mortally wounded Sunday and two colleagues were injured during fighting 25 miles north of Saigon, according to field reports.

Hieu, 22, a first lieutenant on leave from the Army for medical treatment, was hit in the head and groin by shrapnel from Communist recoilless rifles firing across a bridge at Ben Cat.

A cameraman from regional headquarters was hit in the leg during the "final" attempt to complete a military disengagement agreement between Syria and Israel but immediately encountered a fresh snag.

On April 29, 1988, the first Sioux War ended in a Sioux agreement to accept a permanent reservation in Dakota Territory.

A federal judge in New York sentenced Brook Benton, a blues singer and songwriter, to a $500 fine and two years' probation on an income tax charge on condition that he pay his back taxes.

Most of the nation enjoyed picnic weather for Sunday of the Memorial Day weekend, but the Northeast, Northwest and the mid-Mississippi Valley were plagued by rain.

Clear skies prevailed from central Texas and western Kansas to the lower Pacific coast. Temperatures in the southwest desert area climbed into the 90s and low 100s.

Thunderstorms pelted the lower Mississippi Valley, the Tennessee Valley and Alabama.

New Orleans, La., and Tuscaloosa and Birmingham, Ala., all had just over an inch of rain and Myrtle Beach, S.C., recorded 1.53 inches.

Temperatures Sunday ranged from a high of 102 degrees at Needles, Calif., and Phoenix, Ariz., to a low of 45 degrees at Brunswick and Portland, Maine.

WORRY CLINIC By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Louise unintentionally became involved in a "boudoir triangle." So her jealous husband began to criticize her excessively. Yet she didn't even realize what was wrong. All widows and divorcees should memorize this case!

CASE A-643: Louise J., aged 27, is a sex victim. "Dr. Crane," she tearfully confessed, "I was married to an auto racer for 4 years.

"We had a very exciting life and I loved him very much.

"But he was killed on the track.

"It was a shock, though most wives of auto racers (like policemen's wives, too) subconsciously realize they may thus become a widow without any warning.

"Well, it took me a year to get adjusted, and then I met a very attractive accountant at an automobile factory.

"We harmonized so beautifully that we became engaged and in 3 more months, we were married.

"Everything seemed wonderful at first.

"But within a few weeks of our return from the honeymoon, he began to criticize me unduly, over even very minor things that most men would ignore.

"In fact, he is now so hypercritical that he drives me to tears almost every night.

"Yet I try my best to be a good wife, for I loved him dearly when we were married and had hoped to have a baby.

"But he goes out of his way to affront me in public and even walks a step or two ahead of me when we are on the street, as if to indicate his total disdain for me.

"Dr. Crane, why does he hate me so? And is there any chance for us to avoid divorce?"

BOUDOIR TRIANGLE

Louise is an innocent victim of a very common boudoir triangle.

And the 3rd person thereof is a ghost.

She doesn't see the ghost and never even dreams that he is always present in her bedroom.

But her second husband vividly is aware of his presence.

Remember, every woman who is a widow or divorcee and then marries a second time, becomes involved in a boudoir triangle.

For her present husband watches her like a hawk to see if she shows even the slightest diffidence or evasive behavior toward his love-making.

Since women are created to be primarily mothers and only secondarily sweethearts, normal wives are frigid as measured by the male viewpoint.

But most husbands have been educated via lewd stories, to imagine that ALL women are wildly passionate creatures.

This attitude has been foisted on mankind by the clever salesmanship of "Call" girls and prostitutes, who merely feign that great show of erotic ardor to please their clients and thus gain a larger tip, plus repeat patronage.

Louise's husband thus quickly noted that she wasn't wildly passionate.

So, like the typical second mate, he figured that he himself was not as erotically virile and exciting as had been her former husband.

So he became a victim of his own secret jealousy.

But he truly loved Louise. In his resulting inner torment, he struck back at the ghost by constant bitter criticism of Louise.

So I merely explained this common mistake of second wives and urged her to feign excessive ardor.

It worked and he was immediately restored to the devoted, generous personality whom she married.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

La Habra Mouse Invasion Ebbs

LA HABRA — The great mouse invasion of Brass Lantern Drive appears to be ending. At least officials say it is; but several residents still are skeptical.

"It's hard to say," said Mrs. Al Ruffalo. "We haven't found any in our pool in the last few days, but neighbors up the street said they're still coming into their yard."

The residents complained to the city that the rodents were coming from a flood control ditch, or a construction complex, east of their homes. They presented a petition with 70 names.

After looking over the situation, Joe Gallina, La Habra's rodent inspector, said the mice were coming from an open field south of the neighborhood.

His theory was backed by the county health department which said the field had a "great overpopulation of rodents."

Officials said the mice had good reason for moving north into the Brass Lantern neighborhood: they can't get across Beach Boulevard.

If residents are patient, said officials, the invasion should soon end.

BY SAFETY AUTHORITY

Mandatory Seat Belt Law Urged

NEW YORK—(BW)—Twenty thousand of the 57,000 killed by traffic accidents last year in the United States would be alive now if they had worn their safety belts, states an international safety authority.

John W. Waterhouse, president and chief executive officer of American Safety Equipment Corp. (ASE), a leading multinational developer of safety products, lamented, though, that most people believe it can't happen to them, that it always happens to someone else.

"Yet if all of us would fasten our lap and shoulder belts," Waterhouse said, "the traffic death rate could be cut substantially." Moreover, he continued, the "average family car insurance bill of about $250 a year could be reduced by $40 to $45."

How can this be accomplished? "Australia has found that with mandatory safety belt use laws the epidemic of auto deaths is a curable disease," Waterhouse told shareholders attending American Safety's annual meeting in New York this month.

Australia was the first nation to pass mandatory use laws, beginning in 1971. Since then, Waterhouse said, her results have been so remarkable—a 20 per cent drop in fatalities and an even larger drop of 30 per cent in serious injuries—that other nations now are considering and enacting similar mandatory use laws.

Urging the enactment of mandatory use laws in the United States, Waterhouse said they will be far more effective than the passive restraint system, popularly known as the air bag, proposed by the Department of Transportation.

If mandatory safety belt use laws were enacted today, a net savings of more than 46,900 lives could be realized for a proposed passive system to be implemented and for the vehicle population to reach 100 per cent installation, Waterhouse declared. That net saving of lives over the projected 10-to-14 year period almost equals the fatalities of Vietnam war, he said.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By Jeane Dixon

TUESDAY, MAY 28

Your birthday today: Now comes a time to discard everything that does not contribute to your welfare and prosperity. Your own limitations can be transcended once you know what they are and learn to live with them. Relationships have to be taken seriously, lived out thoroughly in candor and mutual self-respect. Today's natives are ambitious, apt to enjoy competition, somewhat impatient.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Work encounters snags, failures of cooperation. You have the chance to show what you can do under stress. No matter how rushed you are, do it right!

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Confusion and contradictions are the orders of the day. Family or group ventures are open to endless rounds of criticism. Don't take on any special responsibility.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Come to agreement with your own set before you act on their behalf. Home conditions tend to distract you from your work. Asking favors adds to existing complications.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): You'll be better off for having checked out what you sign—read the fine print. Discussions about work, vocation should go directly to the point.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Financial affairs are sensitive, require all your attention. Be self-reliant; influential people aren't likely to volunteer their help. Stay clear of speculation.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): In spite of gaps in cooperation, resolve that you're going to prosper from your own initiative and enjoy doing it. A full schedule demands a deliberate pace.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Calmly see the benefits in what first seems to be unhappy news. Take a good look at your health maintenance programs. Avoid secret moves; pursue unfinished business vigorously.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Friends and finances are both delicately balanced now. Mixing them won't do. Where you can work alone do so. A bright idea is well worth patient, detailed development.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): To profit by strenuous vocational adjustments is an art today. Nobody agrees beyond a fairly narrow range. Whatever else, adopt a definite, forthright approach.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Stay on the job instead of trekking off in search of the rainbow's end. Close figuring enables you to meet exceptional demands, much to the surprise of all concerned.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Speculative maneuvers are more risky than usual, likewise your fascination with them. Pray for guidance! Even very important people give out misguided advice.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Family issues spread out and you have a field day of explanations, extra pros and cons, which may get in the way of the business you're trying to wrap up. Patience!

Memorial Rites Scheduled For OC Marine Killed In Viet

BREA—Marine Maj. Stephen Hanson will be honored Thursday in a full-scale memorial service on the front lawn of Brea-Olinda High School.

The 9:15 a.m. ceremony will honor Maj. Hanson, killed defending himself after his helicopter was shot down in North Vietnam in 1968.

Principal speaker for the program will be ex-Navy POW David Rehman, now a candidate for Congress in the 38th

District. Highlight of the morning program will be the dedication of a school memorial in Hanson's name. The plaque was made out of melted-down POW-MIA bracelets worn by students who adopted the Marine flier in 1972 while he was listed as missing in action.

Principal Gary Goff will officiate at the ceremony, and student body president Eileen Kelley will deliver the welcome.

Attending the program as special guests, along with city, school and local POW-MIA officials, will be Hanson's widow, Carole, her son, Todd, 7, and the pilot's mother, Mrs. Norman Schaffer. Gov. Ronald Reagan planned to attend the ceremony but canceled out because of last minute state business, according to one official. Reagan wore a POW bracelet bearing Hanson's name. The high school band will play several selections, and an El Toro Marine color guard will be in charge of the flag ceremony. In tribute to the students devotion to Hanson, Mrs. Louis Curtis, president of the county Freedoms Foundation, will present a foundation honor award to the school.

Rehman became the most publicized POW of the Viet war after a photo of him being paraded through Hanoi was produced throughout the world. He was on his 45th mission over North Vietnam when his plane went down and he was imprisoned for six years. His home is in Garden Grove.

FV To Back Tax Override

FOUNTAIN VALLEY—Trustees of the Fountain Valley School District have reversed a previous stand and voted to support the Huntington Beach Union High School District's June 4 tax override election.

Trustees at a recent meeting voted 3-2 against supporting the request for $14.5 million to build a new high school.

But after reassessing the election's impact "and the need for a new high school to ease crowded conditions," the opposing trustees changed their minds.

Originally against supporting the measure were trustees Sheila Meyers, Fred Voss and Karan Ackley.

TEEN FORUM BY JEAN ADAMS

INTERLUDE: (Q.) My family and I went on a trip to New York. I thought it would be a nice time to run away. I left our hotel and wandered around. Well, this guy picked me up and took me to his apartment. We went to bed. (Before this I was a virgin.) We lived together for a while.

Then he told me he loved me but he was on drugs and didn't want me involved. He also said I was too young. (I'm 15, he's 26.) I got mad and hitchhiked home.

Well, I just got a letter from him. (I don't know where he got my address.) He said he'd be passing by and I can come with him if I don't mind sharing him with other chicks. I don't know if I should. I still love him, though. — Undecided in Indiana

(A.) He may not show up. If he does, don't take up with him again. Chick-sharing is very bad business. There are several other reasons I could give you, but that one is enough.

MESSAGE: (Q.) What would you do if the boy you liked said that he wished you would stop chasing him, that if he wanted you he would come and get you? — Told in Texas

(A.) I would listen to him. (Write to Jean Adams, care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Every letter is read, but because of the great number received Jean Adams cannot send personal answers.)

A Covering Of Flowers

May is a time when flowers are available. Miss Emma Hunter noted the fact. She picked a bouquet, and then the thought occurred to take them to the cemetery where her father was buried. He was Col. James Hunter, commander of the 49th Pennsylvania Regiment that had taken part in the battle of Gettysburg in July, 1863.

At the cemetery, Miss Hunter met a Mrs. Meyer whose son had been killed in the war. They had a pleasant chat, comforted one another. That was at Boalsburg, Pa., 1864. The two made plans to meet the next year at the same time and place for the same purpose.

The following year, when Miss Emma and Mrs. Meyer were going to the cemetery for the second time, druggist Henry C. Wells of Waterloo, N.Y. thought something ought to be done in commemoration of the war dead. He talked with Union General John B. Murray. The two got up a little program that was much appreciated by the townsfolk.

Just a year after that when the residents of Boalsburg had taken to following the pattern set by Miss Hunter and Mrs. Meyer and Waterloo N.Y. was conducting its second annual ceremony, Mayor F.B. May and School Superintendent Andrew Washburn at Belle Isle, Va., near Richmond, planned a program. Several teachers and a nurse went to the burial ground of Union soldiers who had died in a nearby Confederate prison. The nurse, a Miss Gibson, sang a hymn and the others joined in the chorus.

Farther south, the flowers bloom a little earlier. So about a month before the Belle Isle commemoration, in late April, townswomen of Columbus, Miss., went out to decorate the graves of 1500 Confederates who had died in the Battle of Shiloh. The city then was in the agony of the Reconstruction. In fact, it was occupied by Northern troops. The specifics of the cemetery visits are lost to record—what the women wore, what they talked about. Still one may surmise quite a bit from the customs of the period, the bonnets, the ribbons, the long dress, perfume of lilacs, murmur of soft voices. When the flowers had been distributed on the 1500 graves so that the cemetery looked like a garden, at least one of the ladies looked across the landscape. She saw a bare spot. Though her words have floated off into space beyond recovery—unless there is some mysterious device in nature that records precious thoughts forever, it is still possible to capture the essence. What she said must have been something like this, "Let us put some flowers over there, too."

So the ladies went over, broke boughs from the nearby magnolia trees, and laid them across the graves of 100 Union soldiers who had fallen among the Confederates. The New York Tribune heard of the gesture that had been made and printed a brief paragraph. The hearts of Northern residents were said to have been greatly moved.

Thus came Memorial Day. Time of lovely bonnets. Time of a certain far-off tearfulness. Time to look around for any barren spots and cover them with flowers.

A Lesson From Teacher

We've frequently repeated the truism that the best way to teach is to set an example, and we suspect the Santa Ana tax-supported school teachers have taught the kids a lesson.

With their one-day walkout, they have said to the children that a contract need not be honored, and that one does not need to keep his part of an agreement so long as he gets a crowd to go along with him. This is what their walkout actually says, no matter how much verbiage is tossed in the air concerning the "need" for more money or that the teachers "deserve" more money.

As we stated in a previous editorial, we don't know how much a teacher in the tax-supported school system is worth because there is no way to measure their value. The teachers are in a difficult position because they cannot know themselves how much they are worth.

So whatever artificial means are used to determine salary are hashed out in the interim between school terms. It is at that point that there can be agreement or disagreement between teacher and employer. Even though the tax payer provides the money, he has no effective voice in such bargaining sessions.

The tax payer must only assume that the administration of the system is trying to invest the tax dollar as best it can under impossible circumstances. Impossible meaning that the administration does not know what it is buying.

So the tax payers are stuck with a system from which they can only hope some benefit will result. In performance ability and dedication, the teacher constantly remains an unknown quantity.

Obviously there are many teachers genuinely interested in their students and who make effective impressions upon some of them and motivate some to learn. Others may not qualify on any of these counts, and none will qualify on all counts with all students.

So the tax payer has to be resigned to that.

But the tax payer certainly can expect a contract to be honored, and he can expect the administration to take disciplinary action against those who fail to live up to the agreement. In the final analysis, the guy paying the bill has only one thing to expect and that is that school will operate when it is supposed to operate.

Quality of performance is an intangible. Dedication and interest are intangibles. But the physical attendance in the classroom is not a matter of opinion. It is something that can be measured.

We shall now watch the developments. The teachers have chosen to violate their agreement. The children they are supposed to teach are aware that the teacher has deliberately stayed off the job.

Unexcused absence of a student from a class brings punishment, or at least it used to bring punishment. What happens to the teachers will be watched most closely by the students.

What kind of lesson will they learn from teacher in this most recent "field trip?"

We suspect few parents will be equally interested.

Question Box

Question No. 2166: On a recent trip to central California, I saw quite a few signs along the freeways advocating election of Assemblyman Z'berg. Isn't Mr. Z'berg the man who is leading the fight to put highway signs out of business? What gives when a man like that doesn't even observe his own laws?

Answer: We haven't been in the Sacramento area where Assemblyman Edwin Z'berg is fighting for re-election. But we are not at all surprised that one of the most vociferous enemies of billboards should use the signs in his own political campaign. It's the old idea of the politicians saying, "Do as I say, not as I do." It has been our experience after many years of observing the political scene that many times the most vehement critics of what they call littering up the landscape with signs are among the regular users of signs and billboards.

It certainly is true that Mr. Z'berg, by virtue of his position as chairman of the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources, has attempted to eliminate all signs along highways. His bills have resulted in forcing the tearing down of many billboards, forcing legitimate outdoor advertising people to go out of business. Many of his other legislative propositions have demonstrated an anti-capitalistic mentality, in depriving owners of rights to use their own property peacefully.

But individuals who get in government positions too frequently develop the attitude that they are above the law. Z'berg recently demonstrated that attitude when he was convicted for the second time of drunk driving, contending that he should not suffer the penalty for the second offense because he claimed he had not been adequately informed of his rights under the law. This despite the fact he had been an attorney and a member of the legislature which passed the law.

Another instance of Z'berg's attitude was brought out just recently. Z'berg was one of the strong supporters of legislation to bar lawyer-legislators from appearing before state agencies on behalf of clients. But it was disclosed that he, a couple of years before, had accepted a fee from a client to get that client's property excluded from a state park project that then was proposed. Another case of the double standard practices of too many individuals in government.

Mr. Z'berg is not alone. He's just a particularly prominent example of how too many politicians act.

Chiropractors

I read with much interest the column by Jerry Lunch regarding chiropractic care as I, too, am one of the millions of Americans who knows that it works. I just wanted to say hallelujah and amen that someone finally gave them the credit they deserve.

I first went to my D.C. for a bursitis condition in my shoulder and was at the same time attending a dermatologist who had a reputation as the finest in the county for the treatment of a chronic acne condition that I never outgrew. Finally after two years of frustration and money down the drain I stopped going as I had stopped going to all the other doctors (M.D.'s) who tried to cure the acne and I decided to give him a try as I had tried everything else. He started me on a program of careful nutrition along with vitamins and food supplements. Since I started I have not had any skin eruptions of any kind and at this time have a healthy, young looking skin and I have a chiropractor to thank for that. I merely state the above to let people know that chiropractors do not only deal with back problems but are the only doctors I know of who know anything about nutrition.

An interesting side note: On the next page of your newspaper is an article by your resident doctor telling a reader that lecithin will not reduce cholesterol rate. I suggest he talk to my D.C. who can set him straight on that matter.

Support Police

The surge in crime rates serves to remind all of us that citizens are far from secure in their homes and places of business. It serves also to remind us that citizens in all walks of life need to get involved in support of the law enforcement agencies which devote so much of their time to protecting the nation internally. If we, the people, strongly advocate more courts to handle mounting criminal case loads, we shall get those courts. The streets must be swept of the criminal element if we are to survive individually and as a nation.

Oppose Terrorism

The United Nations in its failure to condemn acts of Arab terrorism and brutality must bear the brunt of responsibility for each new assault upon Israeli lives—including the schoolchildren of Ma'alot. The passivity of the international community implicitly encourages terrorism to flourish. Terrorism can be combatted only when all nations decide to act with morality and responsibility against vicious assault on innocent victims.

Accordingly, Hadassah calls for effective controls to end terrorism and asks all citizens to have our government press for: (1) all governments to stop financing, protecting and sheltering international outlaws; and (2) all nations to ensure speedy prosecution of terrorists or their extradition to countries where their crimes were perpetrated.

Supposing?

It is my supposing that Willy Brandt of West Germany has abdicated from his post to come to United States to join with Dr. Kissinger. Two more Nazis in some sort of power is what we can do without. Incidentally, exactly how did Kissinger come to have a title of Doctor? What is his background, and just how did he tunnel into our own U.S.? Anyone can buy fake credentials here. We are investigating everyone else, why not Kissinger? Peace mediator? Give away United States until we are finally subservient to all other nations? That's Kissinger. How apathetic can we get? And how much has Rich-nix stashed in Swiss banks???? No harm in asking.

TIME RUNNING OUT FOR DUE PROCESS

Lameduck Senate Could Try President

By JERRY GREENE
WASHINGTON — Progress, and the lack of progress, during the first week of impeachment hearings before the House Judiciary Committee, plus one telling crack dropped by President Nixon in an interview, combine to give the public a dreary view of interminable hassle before the ouster movement is brought to an end.

As dreadful as the prospect appears, it now seems quite likely that trial of the President, if impeachment is voted by the House, will get under way before a lame-duck Senate and would not be concluded until well into the first session of a new Congress next year.

In his interview "monologue" with columnist James J. Kilpatrick published in the Washington Star-News on Thursday, Nixon looked at the future and said: "If the House should vote an impeachment, and we go to trial by the Senate, of course I would follow that course. It would be immensely time-consuming but I could do it and would do it."

Perhaps Nixon meant that a trial would consume an immense amount of his personal time which otherwise would be devoted to affairs of state. But from the way the House Judiciary Committee inquiry has begun, the words "immensely time-consuming" would seem to have a general, literal import all too painfully true.

Already there has been extensive slippage in the timetable worked out by the Judiciary Committee for completing its probe and reporting its findings and recommendations to the House. First, the job was to have been done by April 30—that was the talk last December. Then May 30 was substituted as a target date.

Now, few members expect to report to the House before late July. A minimum of two weeks of debate would carry the final vote into August.

Should the House vote a bill of impeachment, James St. Clair, the President's counsel, would be considered foolish by most lawyers if he did not ask the Senate for at least three months in which to prepare Nixon's defense. He might not get it but surely the senators would allow no less than 60 days. A lawyer can get that much time to prepare a traffic case.

By way of comparison, in the nation's only precedent, the House voted on Feb. 24, 1868, to impeach President Andrew Johnson. He was served with the formal papers on March 7, and on March 13 Johnson's counsel requested 40 days to prepare the defense.

The Senate granted the President 10 days for preparation; the trial lasted for more than 11 weeks.

Judging by the outline of charges made against Nixon, prepared by the Judiciary Committee staff, this pending case is far more complicated than that of Andrew Johnson, a factor largely responsible for the time slippage in current proceedings. The Nixon case, of course, involves the time-consuming playback of tape recordings and the constant haggling between White House and committee over requests for more evidence, over procedures and leaks.

From the copious comments by some Judiciary Committee members after closed sessions thus far, it is indicated that counsel John Doar is presenting a non-adversary recitation of facts that tend to comprise a circumstantial

Editor's Scratch Pad

By JIM DEAN

It isn't fashionable in most circles these days to comment favorably about big business and its profit-seeking operations.

That's because the critics have the floor and they make too much noise. A lot of the criticism has been invited because too often the private enterprisers opted for the short-cut-defense tactic of crawling into bed with politicians.

The tax payer long ago began to recognize big government as the enemy, and when they see, hear or read of a coalition situation involving the politicians and the businessman, they conclude that both are the enemy.

It is painful for those who believe in free enterprise to see business seek favors from the politicians. It is somewhat like seeing one of your children do something improper. You do not approve of the action, but you do not withdraw your love.

So this quiet corner still loves the businessman, and these comments are going to be favorable about one of my particular heroes, the telephone company.

I suppose the basic reason for my hero worship is the fact that I am fascinated and overwhelmed at seeing miraculous things happen. It all started when I first saw a cotton-candy machine operating at a county fair. What a wonder that was!

But my fascination with the telephone company is based on greater awareness.

I can pick up that little instrument, manipulate a dial and in a matter of seconds be communicating with an associate in another part of The Register building, an editor in New York or a correspondent in London.

It didn't just happen. Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone only 98 years ago, and it was destined to have a more profound effect upon the lives of human beings than any discovery imaginable.

But discovery is one thing, utilization is quite another, and it was the enterprise of American businessmen that brought the telephone to its lofty peak as a useful, indispensable instrument for good.

How many lives have been prolonged because a telephone could quickly summon aid or sound a warning?

We take it for granted today, and that is partly due to the fact that history is written from the deeds and misdeeds of politicians. It is suggested that our heritage stems from such historic occasions as elections, great battles or the passage of laws. Little attention is given in history texts to the achievements in business and commerce despite the fact that all our wealth, all our comforts, all the fulfillments of our real needs have come from the enterprise of those engaged in producing things.

Under memorable dates in the current issue of the World Almanac the year 1876 is mentioned with these notations:

Samuel J. Tilden, Democrat, received a majority of 250,000 popular votes for President over Rutherford B. Hayes, Republican, and had 184 electoral votes against 163 with 22 electoral votes in dispute. A committee in Congress composed of 8 Republicans and 7 Democrats chose Hayes as President.

A second notation points out that George A. Custer and 264 soldiers were killed in the battle of the Little Big Horn on June 25.

And finally, James Butler (Wild Bill) Hickock was shot dead by Jack McCall in Deadwood, S.D. on Aug. 2. Butler was hanged.

And none of that changed your lives.

A different kind of hanging did change your lives. That was the stringing up of telephone lines across the length and breadth of America.

This was private enterprise at work despite the entanglements of government involvement, politicians and bureaucrats to battle at every turn and regulations of rates, restrictions of profits and red tape.

Today they are laying a new cable across the floor of the Pacific Ocean, and within a year another will be placed that will permit 4,000 conversations simultaneously across that vast body of water.

It is an investment in hundreds of millions of dollars, and no one has asked the tax payers to float a bond issue.

I've heard all the critics, but I remain appreciative and fascinated.

And, for what it's worth, I still get a kick out of watching that cotton candy machine, too.

A knucklehead is a knucklehead, and a smart cookie is a smart cookie — and never the twain shall meet...

We have proof of this by action of our very own vice-president, G. Ford, running round and about the countryside, giving speeches to university students, and quoting Chairman Mao!

Chilling, ain't it. Why, even Hank Kissingner don't go that far! At his alma mater, the University of Michigan, where Ford delivered the commencement address, he said, "Let me start with a quotation from one of the great world leaders of this century whose words have been read by millions!"

Ford then proceeded to quote Chairman Mao, who conspired to liquidate tens of millions of his fellow citizens, on the virtues of "freedom and discipline." The thought of Ford holding up Mao as an example for U.S. college students to emulate, strikes us as grotesque.

When asked if Ford couldn't when lecturing college students, quote someone a little more in line with America's ideological values, it was stressed that Ford is interested in shucking his image as "an old conservative fogey."

Well, quoting Chairman Mao is one way to do it allright. And whilst it may live up the Veep's image, we hardly think most Americans relish his singing the praises of a mass murderer...

Gang War Shot Kills Woman

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A bullet fired by a Mexican gang member at a rival black gang struck and killed a woman taking clothes from a line in a housing development, police said Sunday.

The victim, Maria Aguirre, was struck in the back by the stray bullet fired from about a block away.

Authorities said a group of Mexican youths pulled up in four cars, jumped out and started firing with rifles, shotguns and handguns at the rival gang. Two black youths suffered superficial wounds. Officers said it was a continuing battle between the two gangs.

The Doctor Says

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB—I read your article about rapid weight loss and the effects it has on the body; among them was a loss of muscles and sex drive. I would like to know if that would cause the breasts to sag terribly.

After my first child, almost eight years ago, my breasts sagged, bottom and the rest of my body sagged badly. I practically starved myself to lose weight and lost 35 pounds in one month. I also seemed to have lost my strength. Before my first child I was very well shaped, solid and fairly strong for a woman. I'm only 26 and want to know if I can restore the size of my breasts and gain back my muscle tone.

DEAR READER—You certainly must have starved yourself to have lost that much weight in a month. There are 3,500 calories in a pound of body fat. That is far more calories than a normal person with moderate activity uses in a day. There are only about 600 calories in lean muscle so you lost muscle as well as fat. No wonder you lost strength and developed sagging muscles. This can happen to anyone who insists on going on a semi-starvation diet. Unfortunately, in many of these diet fads people lose much more than just fat.

You can rebuild your muscles, but it will take work. Muscles grow and gain strength from being put under load, as in weight lifting. You can load the muscle by various forms of exercise, including sit-ups and leg lifts for the stomach, push-ups and chin-ups for the arms and shoulders and a variety of exercises that cause each muscle to be contracted firmly.

Just eating food, including protein, will not restore those muscles. It takes both food and physical work. You had strong muscles to begin with because you used them. By losing them from starvation you will now have to work them hard while you are getting enough protein to ever get back the muscle strength you once had. Remember neither food (protein) nor work alone will do the trick. It takes both together.

You will help your breasts some by improving your muscle mass. The development of the chest muscles under the breast will decrease the sag some. Posture is also important. Good posture requires strong muscles in the back and between the shoulders. When the chest is held up and the shoulders are properly back, rather than slouched, the breasts are lifted. That makes the profile more attractive.

Part of the size of the breasts is fat. If you are starved, the normal fat deposits will melt away leaving the sagging sac of skin so distressing to many women. I doubt you will be able to achieve the same breastline you once had, but you can certainly improve yourself by correcting the muscle problems that tend to develop from starvation.

The obvious lesson here is to prevent such problems. Women who gain more weight than they want during pregnancy should not go on any crash diet. If it took nine months to put it on, take nine months to get it off. A good, sensible diet, particularly if you combine it with a good exercise program for the abdomen and for posture, will help you avoid these problems and do a lot to regain your former shape.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on balanced diet, send 50 cents to the same address and ask for "Balanced Diet" booklet.

DEAR ABBY

Key Factor Is Self Respect

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "Normal girl" who wanted to know why you replied, "Lovely" to the 16-year-old girl who was saving her virginity for her husband, may I comment!

I am a male, 55, who has been a social worker for 18 years. I don't know how mature "Normal girl" considers herself to be, but if [as she claims] all that is necessary for a beautiful and guilt-free sexual relationship between a guy and a girl is that they "love" each other, it's a wonder we are not all in bed by the time we are 13.

Children, by their own immature standards, start "falling in love" very early in their lives. What keeps most young girls from going all the way is respect for the standards of their parents, teachers, and community.

CLEVELANDER

DEAR CLEVELANDER: As I view it, of equal importance to respect for the standards of one's parents, teachers and community is respect for one's self. But according to my mail, what keeps most young girls from going all the way is fear of pregnancy, fear of V.D., and fear that the boy might tell a few dozen of his closest friends—and in that order.

DEAR ABBY: Norton's wife, who complained that Norton never opened his mouth in company, and consequently everybody thought he was unfriendly or mad, reminded me of a cousin of mine. Her husband also was a very quiet man, but it was beautiful to watch her draw him into the conversation by saying, "Larry, why don't you tell the folks about the night watchman who found the cat locked in the office?"

That gave Larry a chance to talk without making him feel self-conscious. I've always admired my cousin for the consideration she showed for her quiet husband.

KISSIN' COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: She deserves to be kissed. The world could use more wives like her, and fewer wives who make a practice of interrupting their husbands to finish a story he's telling.

DEAR ABBY: The mother who labeled her son and his wife "selfish" because they were denying her the pleasure of being a grandparent should have applied that label to herself. She apparently wants them to add to an already overcrowded world, regardless of their feelings, simply for her own selfish pleasure.

While the Bible does say, "Go forth and multiply," a more timely quotation is, "Thou hast multiplied the nation and not increased the joy" [Isaiah 9:3].

The last thing the world needs is children whose parents were high-pressured into such a serious and permanent decision. There should be a national organization to assist parents who are being pressured to have children, and to inform those well-intentioned but misguided people who try to make couples feel guilty or abnormal for remaining childless.

FOR POPULATION CONTROL

DEAR FOR: Would you believe there is such an organization? It's the National Organization for Non-Parents, 515 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022.

Jim: "Even seven notrump isn't too bad a contract. Not that it makes the way the East-West cards are set up, but it would wheel in a lot of the time."

Oswald: "Clubs don't break; diamonds don't break, the heart finesse is wrong and a careless declarer might actually get at six notrump."

Jim: "He shouldn't be. There is a very simple end play to bring home twelve tricks."

Oswald: "South starts by cashing three diamonds. Then he runs off four spades while discarding a diamond from his hand. Next come three rounds of clubs. At this time West is known to be holding one diamond and two hearts. South throws West in with dummy's last diamond and West has to lead a heart to give South the last two tricks."

Your partner has bid three hearts over West's two spades. What do you do after East passes?

Serious Shopper Can Still Locate Furnishing Bargains

By BETTY YARMON
Women's News Service

NEW YORK—Furniture and furnishings that are usable though used, or inferior quality when new, are available at a surprising number of different sources within the community.

Obviously you won't find the caliber of merchandise or service you're accustomed to get at your favorite department store, but these sources may help you beat inflation and still let you furnish your home with good taste.

Here are 10 such sources, as outlined in a new and useful book, "Home Free," by Kathryn Gottlieb, Crown Publishers:

1. House and garage sales. Such sales are advertised in the classified columns of newspapers. Offerings range from entire households of furniture, through garage, carport, porch, patio, attic and basement sales, down to the announcement that someone wants to get rid of a wheel-barrow in good condition or a set of salad forks.

2. Antique shops and used-furniture stores. Whether you live in a city or suburban area, you will find that the two groups generally tend to group themselves and you won't have much running around to track them down. This allows you to comparative-shop without difficulty.

3. Furniture clearance centers. Generally, the merchandise here will be the same as in the parent store, but it has been "cleared" for sale either because it has been improperly manufactured, damaged in shipment, or improperly made to a customer's order and for some reason refused and returned. Make sure, though, that the clearance center indeed is this and not a store selling a cheaper quality of merchandise than that sold at the parent store.

4. Fabric clearance centers and mill-end stores. Similarly, they offer at a discount fabrics that cannot be sold as first quality because of imperfections occurring somewhere in the lengthy and complex production process. The store should be equipped to unroll and display for you the entire width and length of the fabric that attracts you so that you can see just how much you will have to discard, or whether you will be able to use the fabric at all. Mill-end stores sometimes offer seconds and "discontinued" patterns.

5. Suppliers of glass, china and pottery. If you live within driving distance of a factory where glassware or dinnerware is manufactured, you may be able to pick up slightly flawed table settings at substantial savings. Bubbles may have formed in the glass during heating and cooling, flaws may have arisen in the shaping of handles, the height of a stem of a glass may not conform to the general pattern.

6. Unclaimed freight. This is rare to come by, although you may be able to track down sales by airlines or railroads. Two examples: United Airlines in Atlanta, Union Pacific Railroad in Los Angeles.

7. Suppliers. These are dealers who handle fixtures and furnishings for such commercial and public institutions as offices, stores, restaurants, schools and theaters. Since it is common practice for them to take used furniture and equipment in trade when they make a sale, the public can benefit by buying this traded-in merchandise.

8. Pawnshops. The modern pawnshop has added radios, stereo equipment, TV sets, tape recorders, typewriters, cameras and even kitchen appliances to the traditional jewelry and musical instruments. While the disposal after a certain period of time of pawned merchandise that has not been redeemed is regulated by state law, bargains are not uncommon.

9. Auctions. In addition to the usual auctions offered by large galleries and small antique shops, Uncle Sam conducts auctions throughout the year. The U.S. Post Office offers parcel post items that were improperly addressed, undeliverable and unclaimed, along with items that were damaged in transit and became its property after insurance claims were paid out.

The U.S. Customs Service auctions off goods that have been seized, or are unclaimed, or have been taken as contraband, or have been abandoned by those unwilling to pay duty on it.

Other government agencies—federal, state, local—often conduct auctions on items that have been replaced by the purchase of new furnishings and equipment.

10. Thrift shops. These generally are fund-raising enterprises for a variety of worthy causes, with merchandise usually donated to the benefit shop for resale. The Salvation Army, the Volunteers of America and the Goodwill Stores are typical of institutions dependent on donations for their merchandise.

Look about you and you'll probably find other places where you can buy old or faulty items that can be used with a flair.

Installation Luncheon Set For Leaguers

Mrs. Francis Oaks will become president of Assistance League of Orange Friday, June 7, during an 11 a.m. luncheon in the Newporter Inn, Newport Beach.

A resume of projects of the past year will be given by officers and chairmen. Taking office with her that day will be Mmes. Herbert Grimm, Donald Verleur and Charles Miller, first second and third vice presidents, respectively; Donald Struck, recording secretary; E. P. Park, corresponding secretary, and Stanley Rohrs, treasurer.

Also assuming responsibilities for the coming year are Mmes. Robert Swift, regional council representative; Ralph Vaughn, alternate; Helen Miles, delegate to national convention; Oaks, alternate; George Briggeman, Assistants coordinator; Vincent Heim, chapter house, and John Pouk, gift shop.

Others are Richard McKensie, hospitality; Graham Gilmer, major projects; James Parsons, public relations; Glenn Musselwhite, special projects and Cecil Wright, Thrift Shop.

Purpose of the chapter of National Assistance League is to act as a friend at any and all times. Funds for projects are raised through operation of the Thrift Shop and Gift Shop, both in Orange, plus special events.

The league runs a Hospital Loan Closet in the clubhouse which has wheelchairs, walkers and crutches available to Orange residents. Members also run a well-baby clinic twice a month at the clubhouse with doctors volunteering help. Emergency aid is given to families in distress, and scholarships are awarded to high school students.

Musical Evening Arranged By League

James Christensen, music director for Disneyland and Walt Disney World, will provide music with his Pacific Pops Orchestra at the Saturday, June 1, dinner dance of Villa Park Women's League.

Themed "Wine, Women and Song," the evening of music will also include singer Marilyn Savage, who has been guest artist with the Cleveland Symphony, Paul Whiteman Orchestra, Washington National Symphony and the Boston Pops.

She was a solo member of NBC TV Opera Company and has been an active oratorio singer and supperclub performer.

Christensen's credits include work for films, radio and television commercials, albums for eight companies and special material for the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, "Academy" Awards Show, Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops.

With his 23-piece orchestra Christensen will provide varied music throughout the evening. Cocktail hour beginning 7 p.m. in a private club will be in a patio setting with soft string and woodwind music in the background. While dining, guests will hear a pops concert of show tunes, popular favorites and light classics featuring Ms. Savage. A combo from Pacific Pops will complete the evening with dance music.

Reservations for the event, open to the public, may be made by contacting the orchestra director's wife, Karen Christensen, 9691 Bryn Mar, Villa Park. She is a member of Villa Park Women's League and plays flute in Pacific Pops.

MUSIC MAN — Mrs. Michael Burke and James Christensen, below, discuss music he will bring to the Saturday, June 1, dinner dance sponsored by Villa Park Women's League. Behind Mrs. Burke and Christensen are some of his published compositions which paper one wall in his home. (Register Photo)

This Pie Never Sees Your Oven

By BARBARA GIBBONS

No time to bake? Why not make a pie?

The pie we have in mind never sees the inside of your oven. Our Slim Gourmet dessert is a calorie-reduced, protein-rich treat made with fresh berries and new low-calorie "imitation" cream cheese. The word "imitation" is on the label because diet-wise cream cheese substitutes don't meet the federal standards for fat content. But who needs fat! These high-protein cream cheese substitutes have only half the calories of ordinary cream cheese, but the flavor is identical.

In addition to cutting calories, we use all sorts of hurry-up tricks to ease the preparation of this busy-day dessert. We use a packaged graham cracker crust, and prepare the filling entirely in the blender. We dissolve the gelatin right in the blender with boiling water, add the cheese and flavoring ingredients, then blend in ice cubes to speed the setting. In fact, the filling is nearly set by the time you spoon it into the crust!

QUICK-SET STRAWBERRY CREAM CHEESE PIE

8-inch graham cracker crust
Filling:
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 envelope plain gelatin
1-2 cup boiling water
8 ounces low-calorie cream cheese or Neufchatel cheese
3 tablespoons sugar
sugar substitute to equal ¼ cup
¼ teaspoon salt or butter-flavored salt
¼ teaspoon bottled lemon or orange rind
1 cup ice cubes

Topping:
½ envelope (1½ teaspoons) gelatin
¼ cup chilled red grape juice, divided

1 cup sliced strawberries, chilled sugar substitute to equal 2 tablespoons

FOR FILLING: Combine vanilla and gelatin in blender container. Wait one minute until gelatin granules are softened. Add boiling water. Cover and blend on high speed until all gelatin is dissolved. Scrape down sides of container often.

Add cream cheese, sugar, sugar substitute, salt and rind. Cover and blend smooth. Add ice cubes and blend on high speed until all ice is dissolved. Spoon into prepared crumb crust. The filling will have started to set already. Store pie in freezer while you prepare the strawberry glaze.

FOR TOPPING: To speed the topping's setting, have the grape juice and berries well chilled. Combine the gelatin with 2 tablespoons grape juice in a small saucepan and heat over very low flame until gelatin granules dissolve.

In a small bowl, combine gelatin-juice mixture, berries, sugar substitute and remaining chilled grape juice. Put in freezer for about 10 minutes, until mixture is slightly thickened and syrupy. Stir well and spoon over cream cheese filling. Store pie in refrigerator until serving time. Makes eight servings, 183 calories each.

For more low-cal high protein treats, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to Slim Gourmet Cheesecakes, in care of The Register, 50 West Shore Trail, Sparta, N.J. 07871.

EVERYONE'S LIFE IS HECTIC
THESE DAYS

Especially a woman's. She is either ultra busy at home coping with meals, the children, pets, gardens, clubwork. Or her typical hurried weekly schedule calls for car-pooling to the office, marketing, cooking, doing the laundry, rushing a hasty casserole into the oven at 6:00 P.M. for guests arriving at 7:00 P.M. Hair sometimes gets a quick combing. Lipstick is put on while hunting for the car keys. So it is very nice to know The Broadway's Hair Styling Salons are waiting nearby with scads of ideas that will simplify her beauty life. The experts in the Salons are really experts. It is fantastic the way they are up on what is news-making.

For instance, they're very good at Quick Color. And, you can have a complimentary consultation beforehand. Streaks the color of moonlight, and red or brown as well, or blond-on-blond, or silver-on-blond are done with a frosting iron. 2.00 a streak, 20.00 a full head.

Come to The Broadway Hair Styling Salons for your Father's Day gift. Men's wigs and toupees are specially priced. 45.00 each. Ask about the No-Set Perm, 20.00. Hair is gently shaped, a light perm added, then hair is blown dry.

Naturally, you've heard about the Blow Dry Cut. Whether hair is long or short, it is a cinch to manage afterwards. There is no setting. No hot dryers to sit under. Your hair is shampooed, gently shaped with scissors, given a vigorous brushing, then blown dry. And, that's it. Haircut, 6.50. Blow Dry, 2.50. Shampoo, 2.00. For 15.00, try individually applied Lashes. They look natural and they're fun to bat provocatively. And, yes they do stay on. Try Porcelain Nails, 35.00. Nails are sculptured just for you and with care they last indefinitely.

All through school, my average size was 12, until I married. During my second pregnancy, my weight zoomed to 171 and a size 20½ dress. My husband would try to cheer me up by saying, "let's go buy you an outfit." Every store I went into was sorry but they didn't have anything that large. I tried to diet and nothing happened. Then I tried liquid starvation and that didn't work. Finally, I went to the Dr. and he gave me a diet and water pills. I lost a few pounds, but was getting side effects from the pills and could not sleep... so I gave up. I carried this weight for about 15 years. I kept seeing the Gloria Marshall ads and finally my mother talked me into going. I am so glad I did! I can thank Gloria Marshall's for giving me a terrific figure and I now wear a size 6 or 7 and I feel wonderful! Betty Brooks

Children Eventually Separate Truth From Fantasy Themselves

By CHARLIE SHEDD

"There's a great big huge lion out in our yard."

That's what he said. Which might have been all right under ordinary circumstances. But this was the day of his mother's bridge club.

You know how that is. Sometimes with the public watching, you can't let certain things pass. Glancing out the window, she saw the neighbor's yellow cat. Large cat all right, but no lion.

"Warren," she said, "you know we don't tell lies at our house."

Then, with a bit of added flourish, she sent him to his room.

What else could she do with the bridge club watching? Ordinarily, when we are wondering what people will say, we say too much. Which is exactly what she did. For whatever reason, she put on this extra touch: "Maybe it would be a good idea, Warren, if you had a talk with the Lord about that!"

In less time than it takes to say, "Heavenly Father, Amen," the little guy was back.

"Well," said one of the extroverts, "that was quick. What did God tell you?"

"Oh," answered the grinning youngster, "He said, 'Don't worry Warren. When I first saw it, I thought it was a lion too.' " (This story is taken from Dr. Shedd's book, "Promises to Peter," Word, Inc. 1970.)

Most of us would say she had it coming: Some things from the parent's side are better overlooked. Fantasy may be one of these. Given a normal home and a normal child, the make-believe normally takes care of itself.

Plain out and out lying may bear closer scrutiny. But even here things will go better with some elasticity. This is especially true in those early years. Before their sense of truth is well-defined, most small children will tell some whoppers. Much of this is experiment and it will pass. Gradually they learn that truth is the better choice. Better for everyone — for what others think of them; for what they think of themselves.

Almost any dad worth the name will say, "I want my child to grow in this direction. I want him to be honest, to respect the truth."

So how can we get the job done? Well, we can tell it like it is. Discuss it.

But there is another way, and it's not easy. We can show them our own feet of clay and solicit their help.

One father I know found the courage to make this declaration:

"Hey gang, I need your help. I want you to know that I know I'm not perfect. Whenever you catch me lying or cutting corners, I want you to stop me. You can do it decently, in private, but straight. I'll appreciate everything you can do to make me a better man."

That's pretty heavy, isn't it?

Would I dare come down off my father image like that? Would you?

If we let our whole tribe see the egg on our face, what will they think?

To find the answer, I asked two of that father's children, "When he told you he wasn't perfect, what did you think? How did that make you feel about your dad?"

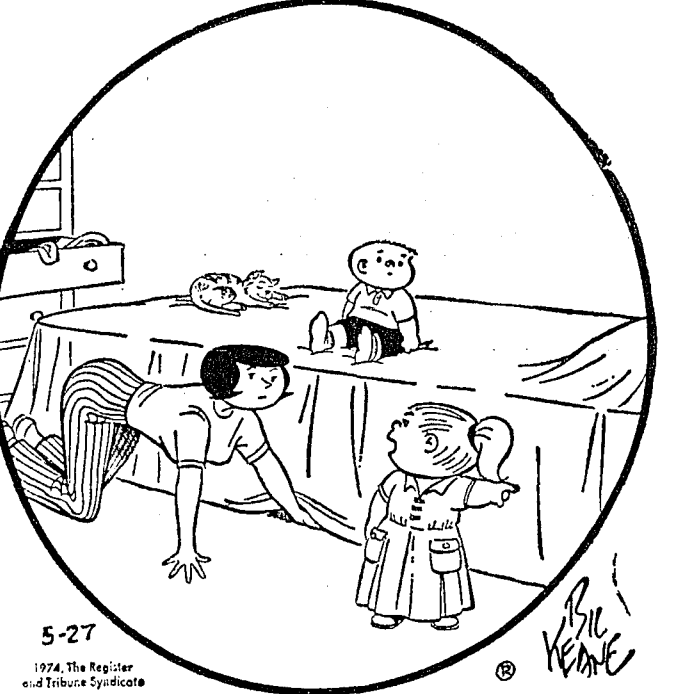

To which I got these answers:

"I think it is nice, because you don't have to worry so much if you make a mistake. It is a good feeling to know you don't have to be perfect."

"Funny how it works. It really doesn't make you think less of him. Instead you just think more of him than ever."

(Send your questions and ideas about fatherhood to Dr. Shedd, care of this newspaper. Problems of general interest will be discussed in future columns.)

Video Needs More Stars Like Gleason

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — Jackie Gleason was drawing laughs from stagehands and musicians at a most unfunny hour of the morning. Watching him, Gary Smith said American television needed other stars to treat it with the respect the Great One brings to the medium.

Gleason flew the Atlantic for the first time to guest star in a Julie Andrews Special. It was his first guest appearance in a generation of television.

It was also his first time on a Smith and Hemion show. Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion, honored with Emmys and other awards, have attracted stars to Britain since they were lured from the United States by Sir Lew Grade of ATV to head his Specials program.

Gleason was the latest in a line which includes Barbra Streisand, Glen Campbell, Steve Lawrence, Burt Bacharach, Liza Minnelli, Rowan and Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., Stevie Wonder, Bette Midler, John Wayne, Dinah Shore and many others.

Of course Sir Lew's check-book helped—though he paled when Miss Streisand demanded they repeat a scene for the 20th time because she didn't like a highlight on her cheek! —but stars also have bankable reputations to protect and they feel more secure with a creative team whose judgment they respect.

"We've brought a style to variety performance and most artists seek us out because of it," Smith said. "We like to think we've found a way of making a variety show warm and literate, of giving it a point of view. And we do this by drawing our themes from the talents of the stars themselves."

"For example with John Wayne, Glen Campbell and Burl Ives on a show we gave it a vaguely western feel—Wayne talking about the old frontier to a young boy and some of the numbers evolving from that."

That basic approach may seem obvious but it's amazing how many directors and producers still go for the old get-in-front-of-the-camera-and-do-your-specialty routine. But there is more to Smith than glasses, a thick brown mustache, a well-covered thatch and a 17-year background of top TV shows at age 39.

He was an award-winning designer before he turned to larger things and can brilliantly create the setting for whatever theme he chooses for his star. And he has some thoughts on why television isn't better.

"Younger stars don't like TV," he said, "and it's difficult to get them to do a show. Neil Diamond won't appear. Bette Midler isn't anxious. You can stretch the list a long way."

"I don't blame them. The average person in show business looks upon television as purely commercial, insignificant, tasteless. It doesn't have status in their eyes."

"Frank Sinatra will spend three days or more on a record album. But on television he walks on and says, 'you've got an hour, Buddy.' He wants to do everything in one take. His reasoning is this: the television show (he says) will appear on the screen for an hour and then disappear possibly never to run again. The record album remains in the home for years."

"Then again what can you expect when sponsors place so many restrictions on artistic freedom? Television tries to bring everything down to homes checked by the Nielsen organization. Nielsen caters to a lower level of taste than even the movies would accept."

None of Smith's strictures apply to Gleason who always gives everything in front of the cameras. During a pause in rehearsals he lamented that the sylphlike 205 pounds he admitted to on his arrival was expanding daily.

LOS ANGELES—Final casting is announced for the Royal Shakespeare Company's presentation of "The Hollow Crown" and "Pleasure and Repentance" June 8 through 15 in UCLA's Royce Hall.

Sir Michael Redgrave will be joined by Sara Kestelman, Shakespearean actress and Sean Connery's costar in the current film release, "Zardoz." "The Hollow Crown," a minianthology depicting England's monarchs through the eyes of their contemporaries, and often in their own words, will be seen June 8, 11 and 13 at 8:30 p.m., and June 12 and 14 at 8:30 p.m.

"Pleasure and Repentance," a lighthearted look at love through words spanning the centuries of English Language literature from Genesis to the Rolling Stones, is presented June 9 at 2:30 and 8 p.m., and June 12 and 14 at 8:30 p.m.

Telling a story of America through its music is the task of WED Enterprises, the Disney-owned planning and design firm in Glendale, have undertaken in developing a new attraction for "America Sings." The original idea for a show of this nature sprang into existence nearly two years ago when WED's team decided that a thoroughly entertaining adventure could be produced from their humorous Audio-Animatronics characters and a variety of music.

"Songs around the world" was too broad a subject to cover in the show's 24-minute presentation, so they decided to concentrate on the varied types of American music which have been popular during the country's 200-year history.

At the outset this proved to be an enormous undertaking. Two of the show's creators, Al Bertino and Marc Davis, who also helped develop the idea for Disneyland and Walt Disney World's "Country Bear Jamboree" adventure, listened to thousands of recordings and tapes covering every era of the nation's musical past.

As Davis said, "We even had a piano player come into our offices to perform tunes for us. One day we listened to more than 150 songs in just one sitting."

Their selection of music for the show was not only based upon popularity, but how a variety of comical characters developed by WED Enterprises could be used to visually express, enhance or satirize each song's meaning.

"We tried to place every tune into a certain time span of American music, grasp a feeling for the melody and picture in our own minds a character to capture the comical aspects of the song," said Bertino.

"The mood we wanted to create for the attraction was built around humor, so, in listening to this large volume of music, our goal was to pick out the joke from a song and eventually draw to it." From this tedious work, Bertino and Davis finally selected the more than 40 musical numbers to be performed.

This potpourri of tunes falls into four distinct eras—Early South, Old West, Gay Nineties and Modern Times.

And to capture the comical aspects of each song, more than 115 new Disney Audio-Animatronics characters have come to life on their drawing boards and are currently being completed in workshops at WED Enterprises or being installed in their new home, Disneyland's Carousel Theater.

RAGING INFLATION, FUEL CRUNCH CRIPPLING TOYOTA, NISSAN

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japanese automobile industry is in serious trouble because of galloping inflation at home and the worldwide energy crisis.

"If this situation continues, we all will have to hang ourselves," according to Eiji Toyota, president of Toyota Motor Co.

Long before the Arab-Israeli war of October, 1973, Japanese automakers were a happy lot, turning out one vehicle after another to meet demand. Workers at the Toyota and Nissan plants worked 40 to 50 hours overtime a month to produce Corollas, Datsuns and other models.

Toyota and Nissan — Japan's two top car manufacturing companies — produced 3,580,812 passenger cars in 1973 to help their country remain No. 2 in the world in that field.

Toyota said its income last year totaled $383.5 million, making it the second most profitable corporation in the country. Nissan was fourth with earnings of $284.5 million.

The oil crunch after the October Mideast war plunged the Japanese automobile industry into a slump.

Both Toyota and Nissan reported drastic declines in profits in the six months between October of last year and March of this year. Toyota said its profits dropped 31.8 per cent, while Nissan said its profits were down 46.6 per cent from the preceding six-month period.

"We cannot expect a pickup in business until the October, 1974-March 1975 term," Nissan board chairman Katsuji Kawamura says.

A Toyota spokesman blamed the automobile industry's situation on rising fuel prices and domestic inflation that pushed the cost of living up more than 20 per cent in the last year.

"We produced 503,119 passenger cars in the first three months of this year and this was 11.9 per cent below last year," he said.

"We just cannot see our production target for this year under the present circumstances. We may be lucky if we can manufacture about 2.1 million passengers cars or about the same output as in 1972."

Hard hit by the slump were automobile industry workers and Toyota City.

A 27-year-old Toyota factory employe summed it up when he said, "I used to work 40 to 50 hours overtime (per month). Now my overtime is about 15 hours. I get about $285, or about $71 less than I earned before."

Mayor Tamotsu Sato of Toyota City said the city council cannot make its new budget because tax revenue from Toyota Motor Co. is uncertain. The town, located outside Nagoya, about 225 miles southwest of Tokyo, has 230,000 residents, including 64,000 Toyota employes and their dependents.

Until last year, 55 per cent of the city's taxes came from Toyota.

"We hope our business will become better now that Japanese workers have received an average 30 per cent increase (about $100) in their monthly wages," a Toyota spokesman said.

Economists, however, say they do not foresee any immediate improvement in the automobile industry. With the necessities of daily life going up, they said, Japanese wage earners don't have enough money to buy new cars.

Gasoline costs $1.36 a gallon, and Toyota raised the prices of new models 10 to 12 per cent because of increases in raw materials.

Professor Yoshiro Miwa of Senshu University also believes the automobile industry has saturated the Japanese market, which already has 25 million cars in an area about as large as California.

Baby Beheaded By Its Mother

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (UPI) — A two-month-old boy was decapitated Friday by his mother who was convinced her child was possessed by the devil, police said.

Alerted by neighbors who heard the child scream, police entered the house of Celia Maria Sanches, 23, and found her sitting calmly in a wooden chair with a smile on her face. Beside her, on the floor, was the headless body of Alexandre, her two-month-old son.

Police quoted Celia Maria as saying, "I have felt for a long time that my son was possessed by Satan. I am happier now, and I am sure Alexandre is also happy, since the devil did not let him grow".

Rutherford's 1st Indy Finish His Biggest

RACING FOR COVER — Two track officials jump from their observers' stand as racer driven by Jerry Karl slams backwards into the third turn wall during Sunday's running of the Indianapolis 500. Karl, 33, of Manchester, Pa., was unhurt but had to leave the race.

Johnny Rutherford, who had never before even led a lap of the annual Memorial Day race and started in the ninth row in 25th position, led most of the way to capture the coveted victory.

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — New Indianapolis 500 champion Johnny Rutherford thwarted A. J. Foyt's bid to become the classic's only four-time winner Sunday and said he wished the battle with his fellow Texan had lasted the entire 200 laps.

The 36-year-old Rutherford, whose previous best finish here was ninth last year, and Foyt, who won the Indy in 1961, 1964 and 1967, were the front-runners for 148 laps as they jockeyed for the lead. Foyt went out in the 143rd lap with a broken gear box and Bobby Unser came up to finish second, 21 seconds behind.

"I hated to see A. J. come out," Rutherford said. "We've been close friends the last few years and I knew what it meant to him. At the same time, I knew if he stayed on, I was prepared to wrestle him for the victory."

Rutherford said Foyt's Coyote problem in this year's race with the new USAC rule limiting each car to 320 gallons, including a 40-gallon tank capacity. The issue became crucial in the 175th lap of the 200-lap event when Rutherford came in for a final fuel stop, which lasted 26 seconds.

The Fort Worth, Tex., driver lost the lead briefly to Unser during this pause, but regained it when Unser went in for a 16-second fuel-up on the 176th lap.

Rutherford, driving a McLaren, had only a 10-second lead over Unser, a former Indy winner in an Eagle, and they battled the remaining 24 laps for auto racing's richest prize.

Only 12 of the 33 starters finished the race, which lasted

WINNER'S SMILE — Johnny Rutherford flashes a broad smile and waves to crowd after he came back from the 25th starting spot to win the 1974 Indianapolis 500. Rutherford, 36, was driving in his 10th Indy race.

Irvine Off To Nationals After Taking 29th In Row

TACOMA, Wash.—To the surprise of nobody, UC Irvine's potent baseball team is going back to Springfield, Ill.

Coach Gary Adams' Anteaters became the first team in history to capture back-to-back West Coast Regional championships, Sunday, when it smashed Sacramento State, 14-3.

Now the only thing left for an encore is to sweep the NCAA College Division tournament which opens Saturday. Irvine, ranked No. 1 most of the season, is the defending champion.

Irvine will open the national tournament against the winner of the Northeast Regional.

There was never much doubt Sunday about who was going to win the trip to Springfield. Irvine jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the third inning and then added eight more in the fifth for an 11-0 margin.

Irvine battered two Sacramento pitchers for 12 hits and took advantage of five errors.

The win was the 29th straight for Irvine and it marked the end of the second straight month in which the Anteaters have gone unbeaten. Irvine's last loss was on March 29.

Junior pitcher Jerry Maras struck out five batters as he notched his seventh straight win to run his record to 7-0.

Irvine turned the game into a rout in the fifth inning when it sent 13 men to the plate and scored eight runs on five hits. Catcher Terry Stupny scored a run and batted in another during the inning, while first baseman Jeff Malinoff did the same.

Malinoff was the big hitter for the Anteaters in the game as he went three-for-five at the plate and drove in four runs with a double and two singles. Stupny was also three-for-five and had one RBI. Designated hitter Gary Wheelock was two-for-four. Sunday's victory ran Irvine's season record to 44-7, which equals last year's win total. To win the regional title, Irvine defeated county rival Fullerton State, host Puget Sound and Sacramento.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Joe Ferguson, Willie Crawford and Ken McMullen each drove in a pair of runs and Mike Marshall pitched 3 1-3 innings of relief in his 30th appearance Sunday in leading the Los Angeles

Doug Rau went 5 2-3 innings to pick up his fourth victory in five decisions while Marshall, tagged for five hits and two runs during his swing, picked up his sixth save.

Ferguson had a double and three singles and five at bats for 10 hits in 18 times up during the last four games. His third single capped a three run eighth inning rally after the Giants had closed the gap to only a run with a two-run rally in the seventh.

Crawford doubled ahead of Ferguson in the eighth for one RBI after driving in another with a first-inning sacrifice fly.

McMullen, playing second instead of his usual stop at third because of injuries to three infielders, singled across two runs during a three run third inning rally that gave the Dodgers a 5-0 lead at that point.

John Rutherford: He's No Bluffer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — There are two kinds of race drivers: the honest ones who come clean and admit the hazards of the profession make them kick around the idea of quitting now and then, and the other kind—the pure bluffers.

Johnny Rutherford, the new Indianapolis 500-mile champion, belongs in the first group. He's not a bluffer. He gives it to you straight.

The question was one frequently asked every new Indy champ who has been on the circuit a long time as Rutherford has been. Had he ever, because of all the injuries he had suffered, and all the hazards involved, ever thought of chucking the whole thing overboard, simply quitting auto racing, just like that?

Yes, said Johnny Rutherford, he had.

"There were a couple of times," said the pleasant, 36-year-old veteran from Fort Worth. "I had two broken arms once (in 1966)...and then there was a time we had a rash of accidents in sprint cars which I was doing a lot with then. The thought occurred to me maybe it wasn't all worth it."

Rutherford paused a moment and smiled.

"Then I thought, 'what in the world would I do?'"

The fact is most fellows like Johnny Rutherford would rather run race cars for nothing, if they had to, than work at some desk job for $50,000 a year. It's trite, but true—racing is in their blood, like some kind of opiate, and privately they boil when people write them off as a bunch of lunatics risking their necks needlessly.

Rutherford had something to say about that, too, when a comparison was drawn between Sunday's smooth and relatively uneventful race in which everybody walked away in one piece, and last year's disaster which claimed driver Swede Savage, a one-time teammate of Rutherford's, as well as one of the pit workers.

"I hope," said Rutherford, citing Sunday's race, "it'll ease people's minds that we're not a bunch of idiots looking to see how many people we can wipe out."

The race itself was well conducted although a good portion of the drama was lost when A. J. Foyt, trying for his fourth 500 victory, and running neck-and-neck with Rutherford, had to remove himself from the competition in the 143rd lap because of gearbox trouble.

"I'd rather he had finished," Rutherford said, obviously meaning it. "I hated to see it end that way because A. J. and I became close friends the last few years and I knew what this meant to him. I also knew if he stayed in, it could've meant a wrestle at the end. He was faster in the straightaway, but I could've run with him in the corners. I'd say it was a draw between us as far as speed goes."

One of the sidelights to the race, as always, was the crowd which exceeded 200,000 and treated the entire spectacle as it generally does—something like a Roman circus.

Out of pure curiosity, I dropped by the emergency ward of Methodist Hospital downtown around midnight the night before the race to see how things were going there.

"About average for the night before the race," an ambulance driver told me. "One overdose, one stabbing and a couple of motorcycleists hit by a car. Funny thing, not one of them was from here. All of them were from out of town."

As the ambulance driver said, it was an average night before the race.

The following day, Sunday, Johnny Rutherford averaged 158.589 mph in winning his first Indy 500 after 10 previous unsuccessful tries.

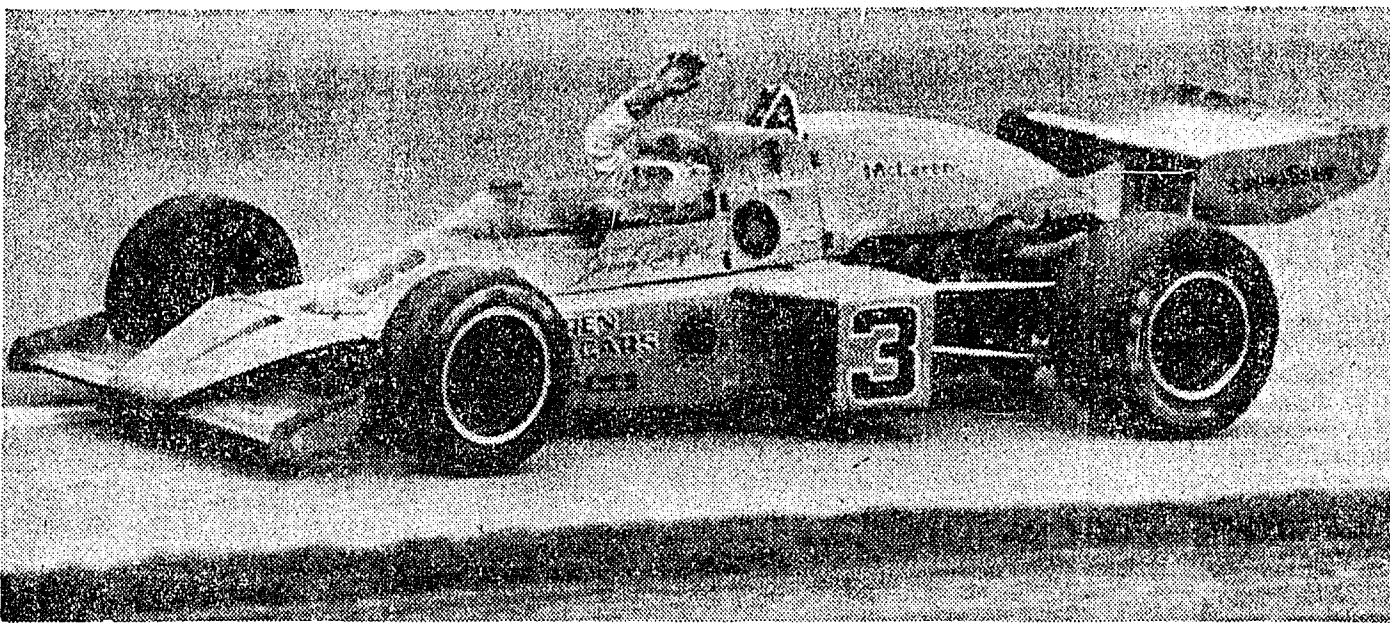

His wife, Betty, who used to be a nurse at that same Methodist Hospital and whom he met here when he competed in his first 500 back in 1963, was right there at the starting line Sunday to see him off.

"Be careful," she said to him, "and I love you."

"I will," he answered her. "See you in Victory Lane and I love you, too."

When it was all over, somebody asked Betty Rutherford if she worries when her husband is racing.

"Of course, I worry," she said. "But I'd worry about him if he were digging ditches."

VICTORY LAP WAVE — Johnny Rutherford waves to the crowd on his victory lap after winning the Indianapolis 500 race Sunday. He led the event for most of the 200 laps and won out in a duel with A. J. Foyt, the pole sitter, when the latter had to drop out with an oil leak.

Pearson Wins At Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — David Pearson survived a crash with Cale Yarborough with 16 laps remaining Sunday to win the World 600 stock car race by three car lengths over Richard Petty.

Pearson, who took the lead for the last time in his Wood Brothers Mercury with nine laps remaining, edged Petty's Dodge at the finish to take the $31,250 prize money for the longest NASCAR race on the circuit.

Petty, who took the lead with 11 laps remaining after the race's eighth caution flag, pocketed $18,200. Bobby Allison edged Darrell Waltrip and Earl Ross for third place, but the three Chevrolet drivers were remaining within a few car lengths of each other most of the afternoon. The race was shortened to 540 miles this year

Swede Takes Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — Sweden's Ronnie Peterson recovered from a sixth-lap spin to drive his John Player Special Lotus to victory in the Monaco Formula One Grand Prix Sunday and notched up his first win of the year.

The Ferrari jinx, which has plagued the Italian team for the past 19 years in the round-the-town race, struck once again.

Swiss Clay Regazzoni spun and lost the lead he had taken at the start, dropping to the fourth spot. Teammate Niki Lauda of Austria, who had taken the lead from Regazzoni retired on the 33rd lap with ignition failure.

The 30-year-old Peterson finished 30 seconds ahead of Jody Scheckter's Tyrrell. The young South African was making his debut on the twisting two-mile circuit.

The Swede clocked one hour 58 minutes 3.7 seconds for the 78 laps at an average speed of 90.7 miles per hour and set a lap record of one minute 37.9 seconds on the 57th lap.

Jean-Pierre Jarrier, in an American Shadow, finished third, ahead of Regazzoni, with Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil coming home fifth to go two points ahead in the World Drivers Championships.

John Watson of Northern Ireland brought his Brabham in sixth. Only nine of the 25 starters finished the gruelling race under a blazing Mediterranean sky. Six cars went out on the first lap, including anything else and I came out facing the right way and could go straight off."

The spin only cost Peterson two places and when first Regazzoni dropped back and then Lauda retired, he took over the lead on the 33rd lap.

From then on the race became a procession with Peterson gradually stretching his lead over Scheckter who in turn was comfortably ahead of Jarrier.

"The first few laps were very difficult but after I had taken the lead I didn't have any problems," said Peterson, who had only finished sixth in the Brazilian Grand Prix in a miserable start to the season.

West Germany's Hans Stuck, Breton Mike Hailwood and Belgium's Jackie Ickx all escaped injury when they crashed at different parts of the circuit.

Peterson received his trophy from Prince Rainier III, who watched the race along with his family and an estimated 100,000 spectators who had crammed into this tiny principality to watch the 6th race of the Formula One championship this year.

Adams revealed the loss to discourage prospective buyers of the new World Football League Houston Texans and to dispute the NFL Players Association contention that pro football is all profit.

He said the Oilers had income of $6,312,562 and expenses of $6,771,843 for a loss of $459,281.

The Oilers, who only won one of 14 games last season, lost nearly a half million dollars, owner Bud Adams said Friday.

The loss, revealed in a publication to season ticket holders, was caused mainly by high player salaries and the expensive rent on the Astrodome, Adams said.

Pit Crew Gets All Indy Credit

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) long."

— Johnny Rutherford, who earlier in the month led the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, led a field of 33 of the world's best drivers to the finish line Sunday in the 58th Indianapolis 500, his first victory in the auto racing's richest race.

"I pulled in front of Billy Vukovich and Pancho Carter coming out of turn two, and this could have been a tight squeeze," he said after being asked if there were any tense moments during the 200-lap race around the Indy Speedway.

He said his only other anxious moment was when his left tire picked up something on the track. He pulled into the pits, had the tire changed and kept going.

Rutherford, who never before had even led one lap of a 500, gave most of the credit to his crew from McLaren, Ltd.

"The guys in the garage put the car together—I just drove it," he said.

He conceded he did not think his chances for victory were too good starting from the ninth row.

"We lost three engines here this month and I had my doubts starting so far back in the pack," he said.

It became apparent from the outset, however, that Rutherford would be an early challenger for the lead when he moved into fourth place shortly after the start.

And when three-time winner A. J. Foyt went out with engine trouble, it became Rutherford's race. Although he led a good portion of the 200-lap classic, he said he really didn't care how many turns around the 2½ mile oval he led, as long as he got the checkered flag from starter Pat Vidan.

He said his car, the second McLaren in three years to win the world's richest auto race, "performed beautifully all day

All-Star Goalie Dryden Back With Montreal

MONTREAL (UPI) — Former all-star goalie Ken Dryden signed a reported $600,000 contract to return to the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Dryden, who first joined the Canadiens in the 1970-71 season after only a half-year in the minor leagues, jumped the team last September just before training camp began to work in a law office in Toronto.

At that time Dryden said he was unhappy with his contract with the Canadiens and since he had graduated the same year with a law degree from McGill University he wanted to do his articling in Ontario in order to pass that province's bar exams.

He reportedly will receive $200,000 a year for three years under terms of the contract signed Friday.

“I was strolling through the park one day,
In the merry, merry month of May,
When much to my surprise,
...”

Mention parks and you immediately think of the good old days, the good old songs, and the good old finger-lickin’ chicken spread out on checkered picnic cloths, long before the world dreamed of Colonel Sanders.

Well, hello, good old days! Parks are “in” again.

And Orange County is blessed with more of them than old dad every dreamed of stretching out in after dumping the kids into the lap of mother nature.

Register photographers Clay Miller and Jack D. Miller took a stroll through Irvine Park, Featherly Park and Mile Square Park in Orange County one recent May day and found there were so many things to do that even old dad was making merry.

Park commissioners report that attendance is up in parks throughout Orange County as the public becomes more and more camper and bicycle prone and longs for the tranquility of oars splashing in a silver lake, the hum of bicycle tires on a car-free path and the sound of a guitar being played under a bird-filled tree.
